Emmons nixes consolidation asks tax hike referendum

by Geri Majowski

The Antioch Village Board voted unanimously to cooperate with J. A. Pope Corp. and Allied Products Corp. in acquiring $3,500,000 in revenue bonds to minimize the cost of financing the rejuvenation of Quaker Industries, which J.A. and Allied are in the process of purchasing.

The two companies have formed a partnership for the purchase of Quaker to be known as Quaker Industries, Ltd.

At the last regular meeting of the board on Monday, a representative of the two companies, Jeff Pope appeared before the board, asking its assistance.

"We want to turn this company around," said Pope adding, "At one time it controlled the market on the production of tv tables, now it has only 35 percent of that market. We believe we can change that."

When Trustee Don Amundsen questioned the village's liability in the bond issuance, both Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz and Village Atty. Ken Clark assured the board that the liability will be entirely that of the company's.

In response to questions on whether or not the two companies intend to buy the land, Pope said that they indeed intended to buy the land, the equipment, the patent right, if any, and current liabilities.

In giving the board information on Allied Products, Pope told the board that the company was on the New York Stock Exchange and it currently produces heavy farm equipment and some automobile chassis. He added that as a wholly owned entity, Quaker would be expected to generate enough income to pay its own way.

The bonds that are being requested would be tax exempt under the new Ill. Economic Development Code.

In other action the board heard that there will be a public hearing concerning the proposed annexation of the Lithuanian Club, on Deep Lake Rd., off of Rte. 173, at 7 p.m., on Monday, July 18.

The board also approved a ninth payment of $334, 737 to the Indiana Const. Co. for the sewer plant improvements.

Fishing around for fun

Only Norman Rockwell could do it better—letting some boys and their fishing poles depict the essence of summer. Now that summer has arrived—in 100 degree plus glory this year—more and more boys and would-be boys will be seeking out favorite fishing spots. What's a boy's favorite bait? Good old-fashioned worms, without a doubt. High tech fishing gear is more popular, but cane poles still are preferred by younger set. —Photo by Larry Backe.

Board names Dresser coach

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch High School will have a new head varsity basketball coach next year now that the board of education has approved the appointment of Jeff Dresser to that position.

Dresser, who has taught business and physical education at ACHS for 11 years, comes to the head varsity coaching position after coaching sophomore girls and varsity girls basketball. Dresser will also continue to serve as head cross country coach.

The head cage coach job was opened after Don Zeman, coach since the retirement of Roger Andrews in the early '80s, resigned. Zeman's resignation was followed by a flood of coaching resignations.

At its last regular meeting, the board of education also followed the recommendation of the board policy committee in approving a student expression policy which restricts speech and expression which: is obscene to minors; is libelous or slanderous; is indecent, lewd or vulgar; injures, harrasses or invades the privacy of other people including, but not limited to, speech or expression which defames any person on the basis of his-her race. (Continued on Page 6)

20-year-olds hurt when they hit state squad broadside

by GLORIA DAVIS

An Illinois State Police patrol car was struck broadside by a vehicle driven by a Lindenhurst man, at the intersection of Rtes. 17 and 41, early Saturday morning.

According to the state police records, the state police car, driven by Trooper Joseph Julian, was proceeding north on Rte. 41, lights flashing and sirens blaring, answering a call, when it was hit in the passenger side by a vehicle driven by Jonathan Lenz, 20, Lindenhurst.

The trooper was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital for observation and released.

Lenz suffered internal injuries and two passengers in his car were also injured.

Rick Korjenek, 20, Lindenhurst, is in serious condition at St. Therese Hospital, having been transported there by the Zion Rescue Squad.

Another passenger, Mark Rogala, 20, Lindenhurst, sustained contusions. At press time no citations had been issued.

Free talks for groups

History, economics and Illinois is a program of each to entertain and instill pride. On Tuesday, June 28 at 10:30 a.m. Joe Zills of Illinois Bell will present a slide program "Surprising Illinois" for the Round Lake Seniors. The meeting will be held at Round Lake Park Dist. Community Center, 814 Hart Rd., Round Lake. The program paints a picture of the many exciting things to do in Illinois, from digging for ruins to driving through Amish farmland and visiting marvelous museums to attending fairs and festivals.

"Surprising Illinois" and other free talk programs from Illinois Bell can be scheduled for civic and community adult groups by calling 1-800-972-0442, toll free.

Lake Villa meetings

Regular meetings of the Lake Villa village board are held second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m. in the village hall, 65 Cedar Ave., Committec meetings are scheduled as needed on alternate Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. Mayor Joyce Frayer encourages all interested persons to attend.

Auction to benefit Charities

Catholic Charities of Lake County will host its Third Annual Auction on Sunday, June 26 from 11:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. The auction will be held in the gymnasium of Holy Cross School, 720 Elder Ln. Deerfield.

All proceeds from the auction will be utilized by Catholic Charities in their efforts to be of service to numerous individuals and families residing in Lake County.

Many items and services from area businesses have been donated for the auction, including several footballs which were personally autographed by Neal Anderson and Mike Singletary of the Chicago Bears, theater and dinner tickets, microwave oven, furniture and numerous other items.

Scholar fund for Babcox

The Waukegan Twp. Republican Organization, at its May meeting, voted to create the Robert "Mickey" Babcox scholarship fund.

A $1,000 scholarship will be awarded to a Lake County student entering the field of law enforcement or criminal justice.

The scholarship will be presented at the selected student's school on awards night beginning in 1989 for the 1990 school term.

Babcox is the late Lake County Sheriff who died in March.

Fox Lake scholar winner

State Rep. Dick Klemm (R-63rd District, Crystal Lake) has awarded one of his annual General Assembly Scholarships to a Fox Lake girl. To assist him in his selection and to assure fairness, Klemm established a scholarship committee to review all applications and recommend those considered most qualified. This committee was comprised of Kim Schnoor, member of the Board of Education, High School Dist. 124 in Fox Lake; Dr. Darrel Dick, superintendent of

Jill Stueber
Unit School Dist. 118 in Wauconda; Rick Bernotas, superintendent of Elementary School Dist.

47 in Crystal Lake; Del Cryer, superintendent of High School Dist. 155 in Crystal Lake; and Bob Doran, counselor at High School Dist. 156 in McHenry.

One of the winners, Jill Stueber, is from Fox Lake. A 1988 graduate of Grant Community High School, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stueber. She is a member of National Honor Society, was chosen student of the month in March for the American Business Women's Assn.

Boy, 10, drowns at company picnic, outing

A company outing at Holiday Park in Ingleside ended in tragedy for a Chicago family when their 10-year-old son drowned last weekend.

Richard Villareal was attending an all-day picnic on June 12 attended by upwards of 1,700 persons sponsored by Beacham Cosmetics Inc. where his mother, Marie, is employed.

The mother reportedly asked another employee to watch her son while he was at the beach area. She instructed him to stay in the wading area, knowing he could not swim.

After checking the boy twice, a man watching him and other youths in the area, reported him missing about 5 p.m. The body was discovered in water just outside the deep-water marker ropes and bouys.

The body was pulled from the water and a lifeguard began administering cardiopulmonary resuscitation. The Fox Lake Rescue Squad was called and continued the process before the body was taken to the St. Theresa Statellite Medical Center.

Church Pig-nic

St. John the Baptist Catholic Church of Johnsburg will be hosting its annual Pig-Nic, picnic and pig roast on Saturday and Sunday, June 24 and 25. Everyone is invited to join the fun. There will be food, games, and entertainment. The hours of the Pig-Nic will be noon until 5 p.m.

Circus has new home

At long last, a place has been found for the Lake Villa-Lindenhurst Jaycees to hold this year's circus. It will be on the B.J. Hooper School grounds in Lindenhurst on Wednesday, July 13.

The Jaycees previously sought to have the circus on village-owned property in both Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

Suspect attempts hanging himself in jail

The Antioch police arrested Anthony Askew, 20, Antioch, who was a suspect in the burglary of Radke's Barber Shop and the Cantonese Gardens on June 13.

Askew, who was arrested on Thursday, June 16, was remanded to the holding cell in the Antioch Police Station, awaiting transport to the Lake County Jail.

At midnight, the dispatcher on duty heard a suspicious noise coming from the area of the cell and went to check. She found Askew hanging from the cell door with the blanket he was issued wrapped around his neck.

He was in a semi-conscious state when the Antioch Rescue Squad arrived. Askew refused treatment, but was watched carefully until the next day when he was taken to the Lake County Jail. He is being held on a $30,000 bond, charged with two counts of burglary.

2 car crash leaves one injured

A two-vehicle accident at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and Wilmot-Johnsburg Rd., at 5:37 p.m. on Saturday, had traffic backed-up on both highways.

According to Lt. Nagel of the Fox Lake Police Dept., a car driven Michael Dominas, 34, Bassett, was headed east on Rte. 173.

Dominas told police that he stopped for the stop sign and was in the process of making a left-hand turn onto Wilmot Rd. when his car was struck by another car driven by William Meyers, 64, Waukegan.

Meyers, who was cited by Fox Lake police at the scene of the accident, was unable to make a statement because of his injuries.

The Spring Grove Rescue Squad attended to Meyers' injuries. Dominas, who refused medical help, claimed he was not injured.

Historical Society runs display of Antioch

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

It's vacation week number three and the heat continues. Just think if this was the normal climate in Antioch. Thank goodness it isn't! We'd be lying around drinking lemonade and getting nothing accomplished all the time instead of for a couple of weeks. What can we do?

Pray for rain! That's about the most positive action we can take right now. Another positive action would be to call me with your news items. I can't include them in this space if I don't know about them!

This week, the Lakes Region Historical Society is in the news with an exhibit of pictures of "Antioch, Past and Present". Come see Jim Mirck's colored photographs of the same locations as they are today in contrast to the old pictures on display. The exhibit will run through June 30.

A special open house will be held July 2, 3 and 4 featuring "Summertime in the Chain". Hours are from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on July 2 and 4, and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. July 3. The Historical Society

Museum is located in the renovated Antioch Old School House on the corner of Main and Depot Sts. In addition to old bathing suits on display, there will be a collection of old bridal gowns and one of Indian relics. Do be sure to drop in; refreshments, including homemade cookies, will be served.

Just a reminder of the two major activities in Antioch this weekend—The RV, Boat and Auto Show and the 75th annual Fireman's Dance.

The RV, Boat and Auto Show is free. Just bring your family and your imagination to the rear Antioch High School parking lots on Friday, June 24 from 4 to 9 p.m.; 11 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Saturday, June 25; or 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, June 26. There will be live music, food and fun.

One of Antioch's assets, the Antioch Firefighters Assn., will sponsor their annual street dance at the Fire Station on Orchard St. from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. on Saturday, June 25. This is part two of the volunteer fire department's celebration of 75 years of community service.

ACHS students receive awards

One hundred thirteen students from the Lake County Area Vocational Center traveled to Springfield, to compete in the Illinois Assn. of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America Skill Olympics. Students qualified for this meet by placing in the top 24 competitors who took the written exam held statewide in February.

Antioch Community High School students who qualified in specific events are: Mike Jesse, Charlie Kriens, Rob Parmley, Rob Shillin and Roy Zeman in carpentry; Scott Detienne in cabinetry; Debbie Dretske in data processing; Edward Antczak, Suzan Drewniak, and Dave Zakroczymski in food service; Vickie Nelson, Andy Shkyria and Danette Dowell in cosmetology; Jim Kudzin in machine trades; and Robert Adams and Ed Jahneke in small engine repair.

The following ACHS students won awards: Mike Jesse—first and Charlie Kriens—fifth in carpentry; Debbie Dretske fifth in data processing; Dave Zakroczymski second in food service; and Robert Adams second in small engine repair.

Antioch Community High School students attending the Lake County Area Vocational Center in Medical Assisting and Health Care Aide Programs traveled to Springfield, to compete in the 22nd annual Health Occupations Students of America State Convention and Competition.

Teresa Davis won a second place and medal in extemporaneous health display. The following students received finalist recognition: April Shane in extemporaneous health display, Rosa Flores in first aid/CPR and extemporaneous speech, Kim Barbour in safety, and Jenny Clark in extemporaneous speech.

Three Antioch Community High School students were honored at the annual Lake County Area Vocational Center Awards Banquet at Maravella's Restaurant. They were awarded Student of the Year Awards in their program area and are as follows: Mike Jesse in building trade, Wayne Chism in machine shop, and Rosa Flores in medical assisting.

color or creed; will either result, or which school administrators reasonably forecast will result, in a material and substantial disruption of the orderly operation of the school or school activities.

There will also be some curriculum changes at ACHS next year. Incoming freshman with top recommendations from their elementary schools can start taking five academic classes right away. The fifth subject has to be taken from a different curriculum area than the other four chosen and acceptance in the class will be on a space available basis.

The other three classes, sophomores, juniors and seniors, that gained a grade point average of 3.5 to 4.0 in the previous semester, can also take five academic courses at the start of the school year. Any of these students that had a 4.5 grade average for the previous year, who get the guidance counselor's approval, may take six academic classes if they wish.

In other business, the board:

—announced the employment of five new teachers for the 1988-89 school year; Robert J. Straudt, special education learning disabilities; Barbara A. Yousefian, teacher at Allendale; Sandra E. Frey, Allendale; Keith B. Cox; vocal music and Neal Y. Smith, part-time band.

—Supt. Gary Allen told the board that the following College of Lake County classes will be held at ACHS during the coming fall semester: accounting 1; introduction to computers; wood-working and furniture making; basic typing; introduction to photography; floral designing, floral arranging, intro to business, dog grooming and training; typing on computers-wordprocessing; stress seminar; aerobics; personal financial planning; clock making and painting.

LEGAL NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

On Wednesday, July 13, 1988 at 8:30 p.m. in the Antioch Village Hall, 874 Main Street, Antioch, Illinois 60002, the Zoning Board of Appeals will hear the following petition:

Petitioner: Village of Antioch

Request: It has been determined by the Board of Trustees of the Village of Antioch that it would be appropriate to create a new class of zone entitled "Agricultural Zoning" and in order to meet that demand, it is necessary for the orderly administration and annexation of large parcels of vacant or farm land to be admitted into the Village in a category other than R-1, Single Family zoning.

Any land newly annexed to the Village of Antioch in excess of 5 acres shall be allowed to come into the Village of Antioch not as a R-1 zone, but as an Agricultural zone subject to an Annexation Agreement being entered into by the Village and the applicant.

All persons desiring to appear and be heard thereon for or against said request may appear at said Hearing and be heard.

Need new plaza law

Lindenhurst is considering an ordinance to regulate all exterior portions of shopping plazas in the community.

The ordinance will affect Waterford Commons, a new development at Grass Lake and Beck Rds., and those on Grand Ave. The main one on Lindenhurst's main street is Linden Plaza.

Village officials feel the current owner of the plaza does not have adequate community pride. "Chuck holes are deep enough to lose a Volkswagen in them," one official said. It has also been pointed out part of the sign facing identifying the plaza is falling away and lights are burned out in the sign over the Ben Franklin store.

DOCTOR'S FORUM

by Dr. Mark Bowman

WHEN SHOULD YOU CALL A DOCTOR?

This article is fourth of a series dealing with commonly encountered first aid problems. Proper first aid administration and appropriate physician follow up are discussed. Today tips are given on eye injuries.

Eye Injury: The eye's nerve fibers are very sensitive. Severe pain may occur when the eye is scratched. Examination of the eye may be difficult, because the person's eye reflexively shuts tight.

First aid is directed at protecting the eye from further damage and decreasing swelling. Cover the eye with sterile gauze. For a child, secure his or her hands to prevent touching the eye. If swelling is present, apply ice packs. Any eye injury should be evaluated by a physician immediately.

Small Object in the Eye: Tearing, blinking and discomfort may indicate that a foreign object is present. First aid begins by lying the person on his or her back. Clasp the upper eyelash between the thumb and index finger and fold back over a cotton swab. Have the person look down and rinse the eye with plain, lukewarm water for five minutes. If the object is not washed away, call your doctor.

For more information about eye injuries, please call the Heritage Medical Center, 312/395-0085

(24 Hour Answering Service)

10 reasons why you should maintain and increase your newspaper advertising when business is slow.

1. Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage at the very moment when you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information about products, services, prices and values. The best source is newspaper advertising. Yours—or somebody else's.

3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the customer's dollar with very other retailer in town, no matter what he or she sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.

4. There are more people working now than ever before. More women working, too, adding to the family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share—and yours.

5. You can't do much about most factors in the marketplace: rent, labor cost, price or merchandise, what the competition will do. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven sales tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.

6. Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business, you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you'll find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.

7. Your advertising is part of your sales force. Newspaper ads help to pre-sell the customers and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves you money.

8. You say your customers know you and for a while at least they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote? That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new folks who don't know you at all. Tell them about yourself.

9. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

10. Advertising is "news" — about products and services. Your customers look for this kind of news in the pages of Lakeland Newspapers. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the newspaper because it provides an immediate payoff at the cash register.

Landmark mission

Lake County Dir. of Transportation Martin Buehler has launched a project that amounts to building highways by consensus. If that sounds like Mission Impossible, keep in mind that the time-honored method of highway building is a combination of political back scratching and wheeler-dealing with a generous heaping of Big Brother thrown in.

Buehler is a member of the new breed of highway engineering professionals who are well aware that so many special interests come into play these days that it is foolhardy for any politician or agency to go it alone when it comes to highway planning as in the old days.

That's why Buehler and the county's director of transportation planning, Delmar "Dusty" Powell have embarked on an odyssey that will take them to approximately 50 elective bodies before the end of August. Somewhat professorially, Buehler describes the process as obtaining "municipal input on highway alternatives." In plain language this means, "What do you think of our ideas, folks?" We think it's an excellent approach. Considering that Buehler is dealing with Lake County and its myriad of conflicting interests, consensus might be the only way to go in avoiding total grid lock down the road.

Buehler and Powell started from a simple premise to find answers to a terribly complicated problem: highway building is a cooperative effort. What they are working with is data on growth provided by the Northern Illinois

Planning Commission which has been fed into computers to provide "models" of alternatives.

When the engineers deal with population projections to the year 2005 that are refined to quarter square miles, the results are fascinating. Models already have been presented to village officials in Long Grove, Libertyville and Wauconda to enthusiastic audiences. Officialdom eagerly is awaiting future episodes.

What the county's two transportation experts hope to accomplish is identifying where the corridors are and determining which areas have been protected through local zoning and planning.

Highway planning is like balloon punching. Poking in one side always results in a corresponding bulge somewhere else. Careful explanation of the models by Buehler and Powell amounts to informing local officials where the bulges are. Extending controversial Rte. 53 northward in the heart of the county to Grayslake for example, solves one set of problems. Not extending Rte. 53 creates pressures on other corridors to provide transportation needs. That's what Buehler and Powell are dealing with.

Buehler and Powell have given themselves an intriguing assignment. How well they succeed could very well decide whether highway needs are provided orderly or chaotically. We wish them well. By the turn of the century, the work of Buehler and Powell will be regarded in landmark terms.

Municipal tug-of-war

With a powerful Chicago building company ignoring an annexation hassle between two neighboring villages, the scenario is unfolding that a subdivision is developing under the laws of one village while the homeowners ultimately might become residents of the other contending municipality.

Sound confusing? Well it is, and the controversy between Lake Zurich and Kildeer with Lexington homes in the middle is so complicated that the issue now is in the hands of the Illinois Supreme Court after unacceptable decisions were handed down in the local courts and the Appellate Court.

It is more than a little presumptuous on the part of Lexington Homes, in our opinion, to start a homes project with so many unanswered legal questions, but Lake Zurich officials are willing to deal with the builders under an agreement loaded down with plenty of strings while the Supreme Court deliberates and Kildeer waits in the wings.

Such a snarl of complications could only ensue in a climate of economic frenzy where development is proceeding pell mell without regard for the consequences. If the homes could be built in a "no man's land" of unincorporated territory it would be one thing, but it appears that unwitting buyers down the line will be buying homes with a clouded title. They are the ones to be pitied in this mess and the ones who will suffer if this tug-of-war can't be settled.

Letter To The Editor

Control the land

Editor: Forest preserves, parks and farm use of land are now all a major part of our quality of life in Lake County.

Acquisition of land now for these purposes will be a heritage for future generations. The amount of land acquired should not be determined by pro-development special interest groups or individuals. Land acquisition should be controlled by legislation, petition or referendum by the majority of the informed, concerned citizens.

Service program seen as aid in drug war

by STATES ATT. FRED FOREMAN

"We must face the reality that in the war on drugs the invasion is over. America is now an occupied country. Since we cannot stop drugs at our nation's borders, we must now take up the fight against drugs in our nation's neighborhoods." "I strongly encourage the Congress and current administration to debate some far reaching programs which could address the drug epidemic in America which is responsible for most of crime." Foreman recommends that the Congress and current Reagan administration begin to debate the following programs which could address the problem with drugs at the local level.

1. Mandatory National Service.

The Congress and the administration should consider requiring mandatory public service for all Americans between the ages of 17 and 25. This age group is the group most likely to use and abuse drugs and become involved in criminal activities. I strongly encourage Congress to consider re-instituting such successful programs as V.I.S.T.A., the Peace Corp, the Civilian Conservation Corp, and military service. A program should be considered which would require young Americans to give two years to their country in one of these programs. Deferments could be granted for individuals in job training programs as well as professional programs. Credit could be allowed for those individuals who go on to work for government agencies. A "G.I." bill voucher should be awarded to the graduates of these programs so that they may pursue future education or job training.

2. We must educate our young people on the harm of drug and alcohol abuse. It is important to involve role figures such as professional athletes to get the message across to our young people.

3. The far reaching issue of drug testing should be fully explored and debated.

4. We must continue to concentrate on the user of drugs and seek to enforce reasonable forfeiture laws to insure compliance with narcotics laws.

5. Those people convicted of using narcotics while in a motor vehicle should have their driver's licenses revoked.

Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman, incoming president of the National District Attorneys Assn. will be making recommendations to the Congress and executive branch of government during his term as spokesman for America's prosecutors.

6. With regard to law enforcement, all persons placed on probation, work release, or released on bond should be subjected to random drug testing to ensure compliance with all conditions of bond and probation.

7. Local jurisdictions such as counties should institute minimum security work farms to secure drug offenders and require that they perform mandatory public service as a condition of their sentence.

Important issues such as military participation in the drug war, legalization of drugs, a federal death penalty, and exclusionary rule reform should be given a high priority for debate in the Congress. "Drugs are a threat to the domestic tranquility of the United States. Drug dealers are just as much a threat to our liberty and freedom in this country as foreign enemies and terrorists. It is time to bring the war on drugs back to the local level so that communities may work together to address this problem."

Viewpoint White Sox aid boils down to economics

by BILL SCHROEDER

Win, lose, or draw, State Rep. Robert "Bob" Churchill (R-Lake Villa) has been a key figure in the negotiations in Springfield to keep the White Sox in Chicago.

"It's purely a matter of economics," explained the young legislator who is playing an increasingly important role in House leadership. "It doesn't matter whether you're a Sox fan."

Minority Leader Lee Daniels declared himself to be in a conflict of interest on the White Sox so negotiations with Sox ownership were turned over to Churchill and State Rep. Gene Hoffman.

The question of utilizing tax money to keep the Sox from relocating to Florida doesn't apply, according to Churchill. "That's already been answered. We've got precedent established in Illinois to utilize public funds to support entertainment ventures and business when it makes economic sense," exclaimed Churchill. He mentioned horse racing, county fairs, McCormack Place, Chrysler, Japanese business ventures and all sorts of infra-structure improvements as examples where public funds have been used to foster economic growth and create jobs.

From the state's point of view, proposals offered Sox management accrue to the benefit of Illinois. In some ways, the state will be sort of a partner with the White Sox, Churchill pointed out.

State officials have enjoyed working with the Sox moguls, Reinsdorf and Einhorn. After a bout with Bears chief Michael McCaskey, Wednesday, the jury still was out on his "nice guy" status. With stadium plans changing day to day, hour by hour and minute by minute, Churchill told this column that the key negotiating points at mid-week were a new Sox stadium at 35th and Shields, or a joint venture with the Bears on Chicago's West Side. That put the matter in McCaskey's lap, didn't it.

With all the talk about high finance, we never did find out whether Bob is a Cubs or Sox fan?

ALTERING GEOGRAPHY—Developers of the ultra-posh Jack Nicklaus golf community are ignoring the fact that Wynstone is located just north of Wauconda on Miller Rd. They prefer to locate the place "near Barrington and Long Grove, and west of Lake Forest" in their literature. We know where it is, don't we?

All 265 homesites in the initial phase have been sold. New locations now are being sold for $130,000 to $400,000. Smaller homes in the complex are priced from $395,000 to more than $750,000. Custom residences start at $475,000.

Expanding Mike's Math offers space solution

by PAUL E. THOMPSON

As election time approaches in Vernon Township, one may be sure that the rhetoric will intensify between the proponents and opponents of the Open Space bond referendum.

Developers will scream that taxes will shoot through the roof if $30 million in bonds are issued and projects that create prosperity and jobs will be forever lost. Groups with catchy acronyms like HOPE and SAVE and STOP will preach from their newly built houses that new housing will gobble up the last vestiges of environmentally sensitive corn and bean fields and that there is not a minute to waste in pulling up the gangplank to stop the new intruders.

The average citizen stuck in traffic caused by the influx of the newly arrived loudmouths will figure that his future well being lies not with the folks trying to vote through more taxes for open space at some remote location (and certainly not with "development rights" that allow some billionaire to continue to ride horses on his now tax exempt land with a few more million from the taxpayers in his saddlebags) and he will be convinced that his interests are best not left in the hands of the developers. Thus, the unhappy dilemma of the average citizen who knows that whatever happens he will come out second best. Is there no hope?

Clearly, as in so many issues there is much merit to both positions. One must only find a solution which benefits both sides yet impinges on neither.

A fresh approach would be to carry F.T. "Mike" Graham's concepts a little further. We are informed by "Mike's Math" of the following: a) Most new development does not pay its way; b) Most houses under $300,000 will require more dollars in the way of services than they pay in taxes; c) Open space save 5 times as much as it costs; d) Abbott's Corporate Headquarters is only a "wash" for the taxpayers because it brings in low paid help that live in houses that don't pay their way.

Mulling over A through D an idea emerges. The best answer of all is to get rid of the houses that don't pay their way and to be sure that no one builds anything under $300,000 in housing or any business that employs anyone who earns less than $100,000 per year. Presumably that $100,000 employee can pay his way and afford such housing. With a little finesse any municipality of average ignorance can gold plate the public improvements enough (consider Highland Park's 8 inch reinforced concrete street specification or Lake Forest's 35 foot deep sewer lines, for example) and stall a recalcitrant developer long enough to have the interest carry him into line. He won't fight much anyway because $300,000 houses are more profitable. With industry, simply raise the cost of offices and performance standards high enough and no one will build a $200 a square foot office to house $40,000 per year drones.

We are left with but one problem. Everyone knows we must do something about traffic and taxes. In short, we must return the area to the way it was before the masses crowded into our territory. One more idea, please.

What about the marginal housing and businesses in our midst? The equation is clear-cheaper housing, more kids. More kids, more teachers, more taxes. Crummy business-Crummy employees. Crummy employees-Crummy housing. A vicious circle. The answer is easy. Never mind condemning the farmer's field. We can push the developer into submission there. Let's use the power of eminent domain (i.e. the public's right to someone's private property) to flatten the marginal houses and businesses for open space. Tongue in cheek, you say.

Not so. Consider the advantages. First, there is an immediate reduction in the school population. No more new schools, less teachers and taxes. Second, the displaced folks need new housing which is now more expensive and they are priced out of the market. Thus they go to some other area and the traffic abates. Third, the houses and businesses to be condemned are centrally located instead of on the fringes. The land is of some use to the township residents since they are clustered about it. Third, the improvements such as streets, sewers and water are in. No cost to the park district. Fourth, as the schools empty out, they can be sold for office with restrictions to assure that the $40,000 a year worker-loser is out of our community. Fifth, the shortage of existing housing and the proximity of parks will greatly increase the value of houses that remain, keeping us safe from trash with ordinary incomes.

Please join the people with a not so fresh approach and help us create that which has historically been known as Lebensraum-"living space" in German to the uneducated who are soon to be out of our township. "Only an adequate large space on this earth assures...freedom...We must hold unflinchingly to our aim...to secure for the...people the land and soil to which they are entitled" (Adolph Hitler, Mein Kampf, p 643, et. seq. 1926) (F.T. "Mike" Graham circa 1988).

Politically speaking

by Joseph Soulak

Some people think Robert Streicher is the most powerful man in Lake County. To others he is the most hated. He knows the love, hate relationship the very mention of his office brings.

After 19 years as director of the Lake County Building and Zoning Dept. Streicher couldn't care. "I'm only doing my job, enforcing the rules and regulations of the county," he said. "Lots of people walk in my door asking for favors or for me to ignore this or that, 'just this once'," he said. "You'd be surprised at the requests I get for favors or who does the asking."

Streicher doesn't budge, whether it is a county supervisor, deputy sheriff or a neighborhood with 100 signatures on a petition. "I have no political favors to receive or to return," the firm-minded, one-time builder said. "That is why I can be fair with everyone."

Sprinkling bans have been slapped on village after village almost like it was mosquito season. Hardly a person around has not been affected by driest spring in more than a dozen years. Unless crops improve, the effects could linger longer yet.

While the ban have varied from village to village, none has been as harsh as Libertyville. The village has banned all sprinkling, period! That means new seed, sod or landscaping, too. Those who have ordered sod or landscaping have been told to cancel it, until, at least, after Labor Day. Village officials there, like elsewhere, feel the water is more necessary for fighting fires than reviving brown or non-existent grass.

That's modern-day Prohibition!

Former Lake Villa Mayor Don Cremin has some real roots of which to be proud. No, his ancestors did not come over on the Mayflower nor were they here to greet those who did. But almost.

The Cremin name in Lake Villa goes back to 1843 in Lake Villa. The house in which he lives in at 79 Cedar Ave. was built in 1899 by his grandfather, William Cornelius Cremin. The modern-day Cremin served as mayor for eight years from 1965 through 1973.

Lutheran Women host meeting for missions

Lake Shore Circuit of the Lutheran Women's Missionary Society (LWMS) will host the 25th annual convention at Carthage College in Kenosha on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 24, 25 and 26. Northern Illinois churches involved in this event are Faith, Antioch; Immanuel, Waukegan; Our Savior's, Zion; St. John's, Libertyville; and St. Paul's, Round Lake. All are Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod (WELS) members. There are also eight churches in the southeastern Wisconsin membership of the Lake Shore Circuit involved in hosting this convention. The mission society was organized in 1964 to increase interest in and support of WELS mission programs.

Members of LWMS from the entire United States and some foreign missions will attend the convention. An attendance of 1,200 to 1,500 is expected. There will be a worship service at 7 p.m. on Friday, June 24, which is open to all who wish to attend. A mass choir will sing, accompanied by a bell choir.

There will be a brief mission presentation after the service.

The Saturday business meeting and mission presentations are for registrants only. The vesper service at 7:30 p.m. will again be open to all. Installation of officers will be held during this service.

There will be a Sunday morning service for those remaining in the area. This service is scheduled for 8 a.m.

Women involved in the preparation of this event are Irene Kunke, Libertyville, general chairman; Gayle Springer of Lake Forest as registration chairman; Jane Adams of Antioch as convention reporter; and Chris LeBlond of Waukegan as director of the mass choir.

Highways become worse as funding lessens

Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) has taken official notice of an impending funding crisis for both highway and public transportation in the six-county region. Using evidence developed by state and local transportation agencies, the commission concluded that current revenue sources will not be able to meet routine needs for such things as road maintenance and bus replacements. The commission urged the state to seek greater revenues to pay for these needs.

"The problem is a bit different than before," commented commission President Charlie A. Thurston. "The good news is that current revenues are adequate to pay the operating expenses of our public transportation systems."

The commission, an agency representing a cross-section of local governments in the Chicago area, found that federal fund cutbacks, flat revenues from the Illinois gasoline tax and inflation are the three major problems.

The summary report noted that, statewide, more than 4,400 miles of roadway and 1,000 bridges are presently in need of repair. The cost of needed repairs is estimated at $3.6 billion, with the deficit growing each year as additional roads and bridges fall into disrepair.

A recent study for the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) indicated a shortfall of $4 billion over the next 10 years for the maintenance, repair or replacement of rail lines, buses and related facilities.

NIPC President Thurston added: "This funding shortfall comes just at the time we are hearing demands for new highways and even some additional commuter rail lines."

The commission, together with the Chicago Area Transportation Study, is currently preparing a Year 2010 Transportation Plan for the six-county area. NIPC executive director

Larry Christmas added, "It is discouraging to think about the needs we will have 20 years from now when we can't even maintain our present system."

The commission's statement comes at the time that the Illinois General Assembly is considering proposals for an increased gas tax and possible new bonding authority for the RTA.

Chain water level is down 4 inches

This could be a record year for boating on the Chain O' Lakes. Warm weather, sunny skies and days on end without precipitation have brought boaters out in droves.

Boating activity on the Chain O' Lakes is what normally might be expected in July and August. That's because of Mother Nature, says Frank Novak, lock and dam supervisor at the McHenry Lock and Dam. He said the level of the Chain O' Lakes is 736.7 feet above sea level, four inches less than normal for this time of year.

Boaters have responded to the weather and lake level in greater numbers, "chewing up" propellers and grounding an increased number of boats in the process.

With the long-range U.S. Weather Service outlook for above-average temperatures and below-average precipitation, Novak foresees problems. First, the level of area lakes will continue dropping. That means more propeller problems and boats hitting submerged objects. He said some boaters may choose to voluntarily limit their boating activity rather than risk the time and expense of a boat problem.

For those who want to go boating no matter what the water depth and temperature, Novak suggests investing in a depth finder.

Train runs over man

An Ingleside man was killed by a Metra commuter train over the Father's Day weekend when he laid down in front of the early-morning train making its final run to Fox Lake.

The train's engineer, Charles Benner, saw Frederick Sprague, 45, of 35361 Shoreline Dr., laying on his back in the middle of the tracks at the end of Ingleside Ave. at 1:40 a.m. on June 12. Benner said he thought the object to be a dead animal or dummy someone threw on the tracks. He blew the train whistle three times.

When he did so Sprague arched his body, but made no effort to move.

Investigators found a partially-consumed bottle of beer alongside the tracks where the body was struck. Sprague was out of work and was concerned about his situation.

The train, consisting of an engine and two coaches, was the final one of the night on the commuter line.

Diploma for grad

Jennifer Horn, daughter of Barbara Horn of Lindenhurst, received a bachelor of arts degree in psychology from Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis., during the school's 139th commencement program earlier this month. She is a 1984 graduate of Antioch High School.

Lawrence consistently ranks among the best of America's small, private liberal arts colleges. Chartered in 1847, it is the second oldest co-educational college in the nation.

Thank You

THE FAMILY OF ALVA S. TILLMAN would like to thank all those who came to his aid when he was stricken on June 18, 1988. Special thanks to the paramedics of the Countryside Fire Department; Joyce Cooke, aide to Congressman John Porter; the emergency room staff of Condell Memorial Hospital; the village board of Vernon Hills; and those in attendance at the village board meeting last Saturday. We would also like to thank friends and family who offered their sympathy and warm support during our time of loss.

'Oasis' discovered

FOX LAKE—Although the village may be "swimming" in water, trustees decided to continue a voluntary lawn-sprinkling control plan as a precautionary measure in the face of the current summer drought. With a system utilizing less than one-half of its 2-million gallons per day pumping capacity, Mayor William Dam said Fox Lake has more water than any other village in Lake County.

Sewer-water bills rise

WAUCONDA—Sewer and water bills will increase an average of 12 percent on Nov. 1. The increase is based on a projected 4 percent annual inflationary increase over the past three years since the bills were last increased. This will increase the rate from the current $2.75 per 1,000 gallons to $3.09, which will boost the minimum monthly bill from $22.00 to $24.72. This still leaves village residents with among the lowest sewer-water bills in Lake County.

Chamber regroups

LAKE VILLA—After all of the officers either resigned or threatened to do so, the Chamber of Commerce met last week and appointed new officers to be confirmed in ballots now being mailed to members. James Warnken of North Star Travel has been picked to succeed Gus Marchetti of First America Bank as president. Sally Leistner of Cedar Villa will takeover as secretary from realtor Gloria Hopkins. Jim Ratajczyk of Lakeland Auto Body will remain as vice president. The former officers became disenchanted with the organization due to lack of volunteer help for an ambitious schedule of programs and projects.

Developer won't wait

LAKE ZURICH—Peter J. Bianchini of Lexington Homes, an Arlington Heights-based developer, said his firm has decided not to wait for a court ruling on which village has the authority to annex the 117-acre parcel on which he proposes to build 285 single-family homes. The Village of Kildeer is suing the Village of Lake Zurich for annexing the property despite the fact that Kildeer's annexation notices published in a Chicago daily newspaper were declared by a Lake County circuit court and state appellate court as having been placed illegally.

$14,000 postal theft

MUNDELEIN—Charges of embezzling in excess of $14,000 over a 17-month period from the Mundelein Post Office have been filed in U.S. Federal Court naming Laura Behrendt, 32, formerly of Mundelein. Now a resident of Florida, the nine year employee of the Mundelein Post Office is charged with taking the money between 1985 and 1986. She worked as a counter person selling stamps for letters and packages. The 1973 graduate of Mundelein High School faces a maximum prison term of 15 years and fine of $5,000.

Suspend liquor license

DIAMOND LAKE—Liquor license of the El Barrio grocery store and the adjoining El Barrio Restaurant and Lounge at 1116 Diamond Lake Rd. have been suspended for one week ending June 28 for selling to minors. The Mundelein Liquor Control Comm. applied the sanction against the grocery store and assessed a $150 fine for the sale to a minor on May 28. The suspension was imposed on the restaurant to prevent liquor store customers from going next door to make a package purchase.

Car thief caught

ROUND LAKE HEIGHTS—Robert Tyner, 19, stole a car in North Carolina and drove it to Round Lake Heights, where he was arrested by Sgt. Richard White, and is now in Lake County jail.

Union drops charges

ROUND LAKE—District 116 has ratified the teacher aides contract which means that the charges filed against District 116, May 12, will be dropped. The charges were filed by the Illinois Education Assoc. of the National Education Assoc.

Edlund considers office

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Former Trustee Otto R. Edlund is considering running for mayor of Round Lake Beach in the spring election of 1989.

Antioch gets new coach

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Community High School Board of Education has officially announced the appointment of Jeff Dresser as the new ACHS varsity basketball coach for the coming school year. Dresser has been girls varsity and sophomore coach and is also presently the head cross country cross country coach.

Board OKs bonds

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Village Board will be backing a request by the J. A. Pope and Allied Products Corps. for $3 million in revenue bonds to help defray cost of refurbishing of Quaker Industries. Quaker, once led the nation in tv tray production but has sunk to holding 35 percent of the market. Jeff Pope told the board, "We want to turn this company around."

Appoint Chrapowski

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago Mayor Bobby Thompson has appointed Sophie Chrapkowski as first ward alderwoman. Chrapowski replaces Ald. Stephen McKay, who resigned effective June 20. Chrapowski, 56, has had no political experience. She is a housewife and has raised five children. She said she would like to do something for the community because she has more free time.

Impose burning ban

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake Fire Dept. has prohibited the burning of materials in all open areas. Don Mobley of the department said the action is necessary because of the extended drought conditions. Mobley said the village has been fortunate so far in that there has been no major fires because of dry conditions.

Judge Drew

New chief judge

WAUKEGAN—Judge Bernard E. Drew Jr., a Lake County Circuit Court judge since December 1984, has been elected by other circuit judges of the 19th Dist. as the next chief judge for the judicial circuit. He will succeed Judge Fred A. Geiger upon the expiration of his term in December. A native of Waukegan and graduate of Waukegan Twp. High School, Drew received his bachelor's degree from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and juris doctor degree from Marquette University in Milwaukee. He was appointed an associate judge in February 1975 and elected to the circuit court in the 1984.

Power surge hits homes

VENETIAN VILLAGE—An untold number of Commonwealth-Edison Co. customers were affected by a 45-minute power surge June 16 that caused appliances, refrigerators and air conditioners to subsequently malfunction or burn out. A company spokesman said a small fuse disconnected, which is checked monthly by visual inspection as part of a routine maintenance program, malfunctioned. The company did not know how widespread the surge was or how many customers were affected. No claims are being honored by the company, which says the surge was not due to its negligence, act of careless or improper procedures. Affected were a small section of Lake Villa where the distribution center is located, Venetian Village, West Milwaukee and Lindenhurst. The village hall computer system in Lindenhurst was affected, requiring repairs to the power supply and a Breath-o-lyzer.

$100,000 damage

FOX LAKE—Insurance company cleanup crews are working at Shady Lane Grade School to repair an estimated $100,000 damage caused when three students and one graduate, age 14 to 16, broke into the school twice in one weekend earlier this month. They emptied the contents of 22 dry powder fire extinguishers, threw art paint and glue on the walls and floors and used chairs for basketballs in the gymnasium. School officials say the four-week cleanup will leave time for regular maintenance before school resumes in the fall. The four teen vandals will be asked to make restitution.

Teachers not janitors

LAKE VILLA—Some 20 teachers have filed a grievance with the Board of Education due to what they call janitorial duties at Pleviak School. Paid $360 each for the past school year to keep their classrooms free, the teachers say dirt and dust from the playground is more than they can handle. The remaining six teachers at the school not receiving the extra compensation have their rooms cleaned by the school's one janitor and part-time custodial service. The board says the teachers should take their complaint to the union.

Water laws working

GURNEE—Joining the ever-growing list of communities who are imposing water use restrictions, Gurnee village officials are saying that the new water use law is having a positive affect on demand. Residents of even numbered addresses may water on even numbered calendar days between the hours of 7 p.m. and 8 a.m. Odd numbered addresses may water from 7 p.m. to 8 a.m. Lawn sprinkling restrictions will be in effect until Sept. 15.

Sheriff offers tips for boating safety

Boaters are reminded to exercise caution and be courteous on the waterways during the boating season, Lake County Sheriff Clinton O. Grinnell said.

"Our summer emphasis will focus on boating safety and enforce the laws as they apply," Grinnell said.

"Increased patrol hours on the Chain-O-Lakes and Lake Michigan will hopefully, deter boating collisions," Grinnell said. "We believe the Chain-O-Lakes area is the largest inland recreation facility in the country," he added.

"Patrols will also target marinas and resorts in an effort to decrease thefts and burglaries from watercrafts," Grinnell said.

"Each year thousands of dollars worth of equipment, outboard motors and fishing gear are stolen," the sheriff continued. "Therefore, we are urging boaters to take some extra precautions to prevent such incidents."

There are some simple things that can be done to minimize chances of becoming a victim of these types of crimes. The sheriff suggested never leaving keys aboard even in a "hidden" place. Always moor the boat to something secure with a chain or cable that cannot be lifted over or torn loose from the piling or mooring. Consider leaving the engine out of commission when away, "remove" the rotor, install a hidden cut-off switch, drain the fuel, remove a spark plug or the propeller. Secure outboard motors with special transom bolts or clamping screw locks.

A good neighbor is one of the best crime prevention devices around, Grinnell said. Get to know the people and boat owners where docking a boat, and look out for one another. Insist on good night lighting in the marina. If seeing anything suspicious on any boat, call the Sheriff's Dept. at (312)680-3550, Grinnell concluded.

Gets Carleton honor

Beth Murray, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Neale A. Murray of North Rustic Ln., Lake Villa, has received the Ursula Hemingway Jepson Memorial Award at Carleton College in Northfield, Minn. The Caregivers Support Group is designed for anyone who is involved in the care and/or support of someone suffering a life-threatening, life-limiting, terminal disease process. Preregistration is suggested, but not mandatory.

Sponsored by the Hospice Unit at St. Therese Medical Center, this free program is open to the public. Donations are welcome. For more information or to register, call (312)360-2220 or (312)360-2259 Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Time for heartworm test

With thousands of dogs sharing the homes and lives of Lakeland residents, and the introduction of the aggressive Tiger Mosquito to the midwest now posing an added threat to their health, veterinarians are increasing their efforts to assure that all canine pets are tested in the spring for heartworm disease, and administered preventive medication throughout the spring, summer and fall seasons.

This year, the opportune time to test for the disease and begin the protective medication has been extended well into June because near drought weather conditions have delayed development of the disease-spreading culprits: Mosquitoes.

Heartworm disease is transmitted from one dog to another through mosquito bites. Mosquitoes carry the larvae which enter the dog's bloodstream and later mature into worms that resemble cooked spaghetti. Adult worms live primarily in the right chamber of the heart and pulmonary artery, blocking the normal flow of blood and ultimately causing congestive heart failure and other related disorders. Severely infected dogs can die suddenly during excitement or exertion without having previously exhibited any symptoms whatsoever.

Veterinarians test a small sample of the dog's blood for evidence of the dangerous heartworm parasite before prescribing preventive medication because the medication could produce serious side effects if the dog already has the disease.

The mosquito borne larvae develop into adult worms in the dog's body in about six months, so spring is the ideal season to test for the disease. "We are testing now for last year's mosquito bites," explains Dr. Paul Arndt, President of the Chicago Veterinary Medical Asso. "If we detect the disease in an early stage, we can often treat it successfully, though the treatment itself is dangerous, requiring intravenous administration of an arsenic compound. We would much rather prevent heartworm disease," he emphasized, "and with the choice of a daily or the new monthly medication, prevention is easier than ever."

Unprotected dogs pose a treat to the entire community because they can become infected and spread the disease to other dogs. "Heartworm disease is so deadly, and it can be detected and prevented so easily, that surely all conscientious dog owners will want to protect their pets," concluded Dr. Arndt.

Plan year 2005 freeways, highways

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Miles of new expressways, highways and feeder roads are envisioned for Lake County over the next 20 years. All of this and more is needed to carry the cars and population projected by the year 2005. Where there are 460,000 people today, there will be 605,000 by then. Highways that are 15 percent congested today will have 32 percent traffic jams by then if nothing is done.

Martin Buehler and the Lake County Division of Transportation he heads have projected Lake County's highway needs for the next 20 years. They were commissioned to do this two years ago by the County Board, which allocated $150,000 for this purpose. The Chicago Area Transportation Study, using population and economic data provided by the Northeast Illinois Planning Comm., have come up with four different plans for highways, freeways and improved feeder byways to keep traffic moving.

Only two things will delay the improvements, Buehler said. It is money to finance the massive, unknown cost and right of way. "In some areas the proposed freeways and highways will never be built unless right of way is obtained in the next five years because of the new subdivisions being built on land once considered for highway purposes," he said. This is particularly true of the proposed Rte. 53 freeway from Buffalo Grove and Kildeer to just south of Grayslake. This has been proposed for 20 years and has been dormant until recently when the southern extension was started in populous DuPage County. With the population shift northward to Lake County a high-speed freeway is needed to shuttle traffic to and from Chicago and Cook County to the Lake and McHenry County suburbs where the people live.

Other proposed freeways, expressway and highways are:

...New Rte. 120 freeway from Park City to South of Grayslake where it intersects with new Rte. 53 freeway. Rte. 120 would then become a four-lane highway to Volo.

...Upgrading Rte. 12 to six lanes from Fox Lake to Volo and four lanes.

...Upgrade Illinois tollway to six lanes from Lake-Cook County line to near Great America in Gurnee.

...Widen Rte. 83 to four or six lanes between Antioch and Grayslake.

...Widen to four or six lanes such well-traveled highways as Belvidere Rd., Washington St., Rollins Rd., Rte. 173, Rte. 132 or Grand Ave., Rte. 60 or Buckely Rd., Lake-Cook Rd., Town Line Rd., Mundelein Rd., Midlothian Rd., Hawley St. and Maple Ave.

...Scheduled for widening from two to four lanes are such highways as Rollins Rd., a new Butterfield Rd., Rte. 83 if it is not upgraded to six lanes, Ivanhoe Rd., Hainesville Rd., Fairfield Rd., Weiland Rd., Prairie Rd., Rte. 22 or Highwood Rd., Mundelein Rd. and Hunt Club Rd., among others.

All of this is designed to handle the increased population and traffic concentrated in the southern one-quarter of Lake County by the year 2005 and hugging the shoreline of Lake Michigan extending westward.

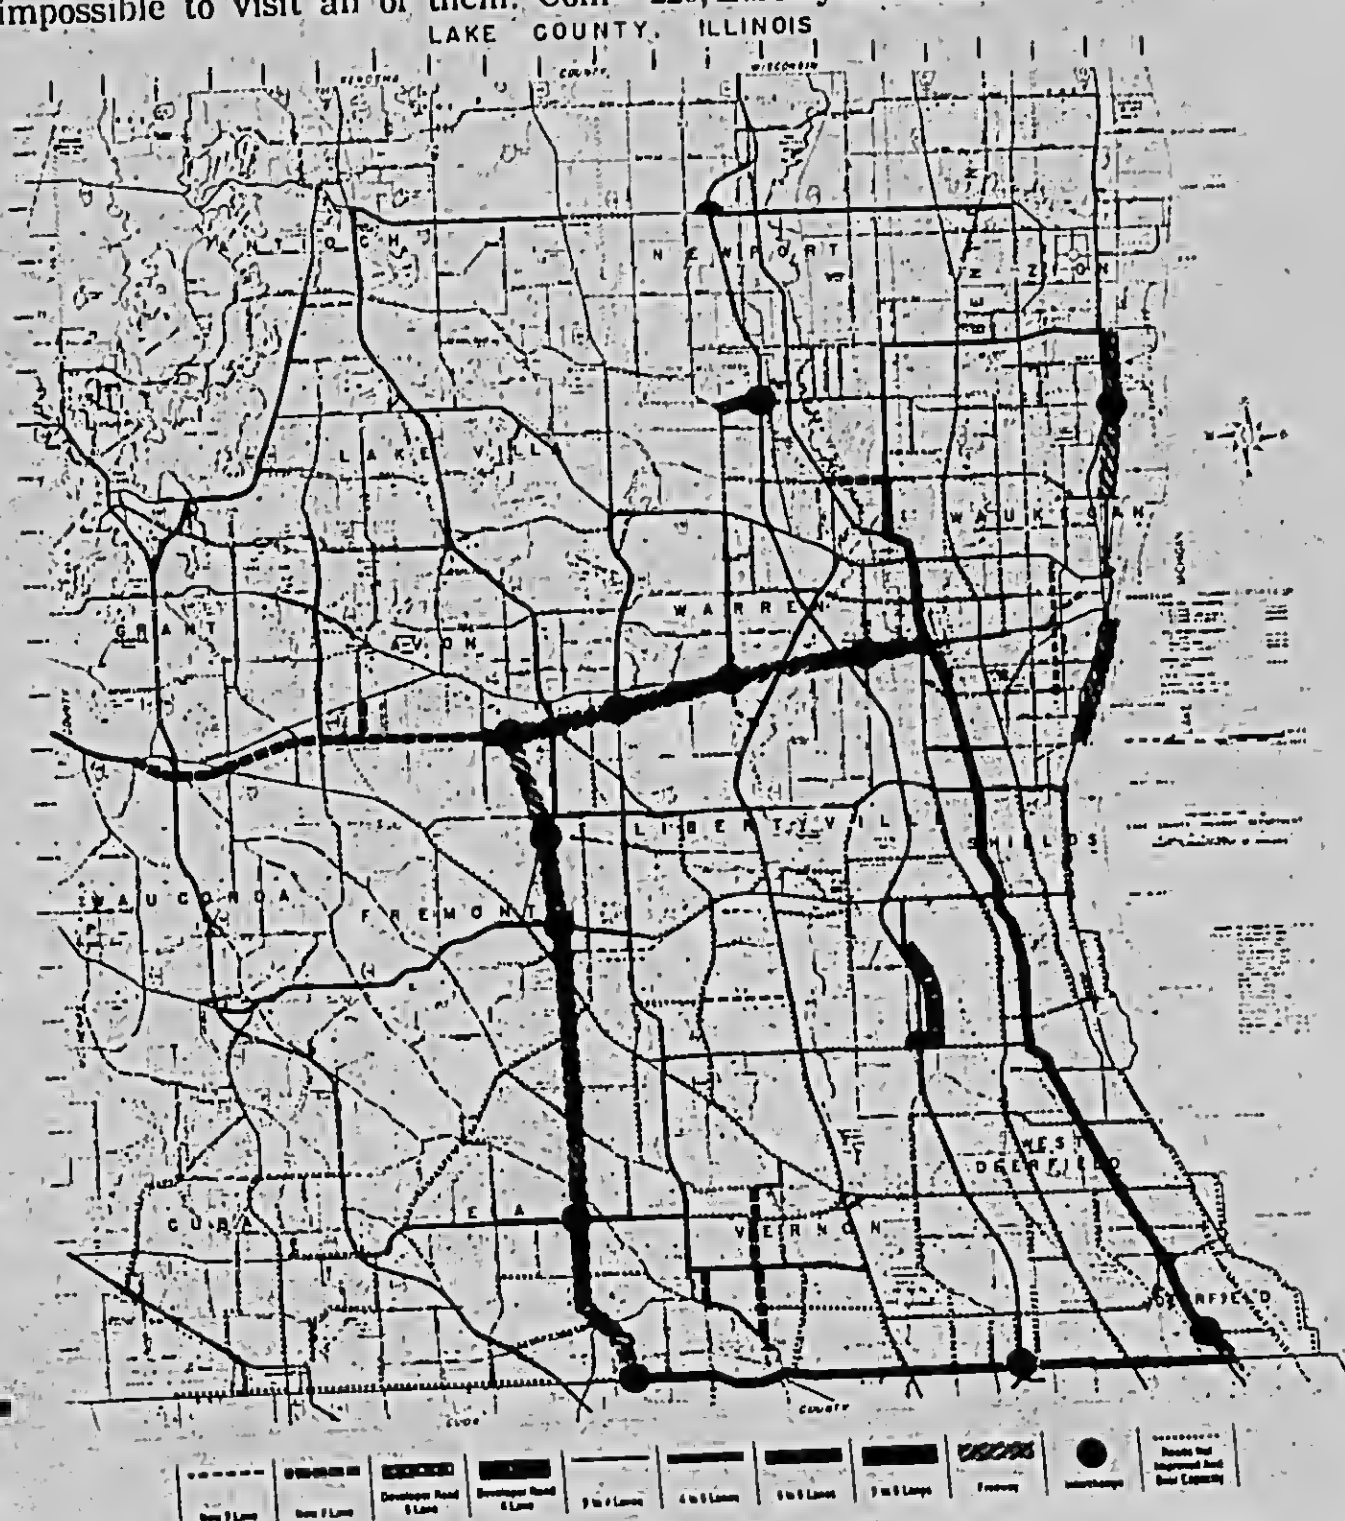

The two proposed major expressways—Rte. 53 and Rte. 120—are designed to handle this traffic and the growth to follow. Buehler pointed out that with new, faster ways to drive to work or go shopping traffic will flow toward new freeways and highways.

For this reason, new feeder highways to handle this increased traffic must also be constructed.

Buehler and the Division of Transportation's director of planning, Delmar "Dusty" Powell are now visiting village boards throughout Lake County to explain the new transportation plan. Buehler notes there are some 50 municipalities, which makes it impossible to visit all of them. Comments received at these meetings and in writing will be incorporated into a master plan to be developed by August. This will then be presented to County Board for approval and funding in cooperation with the state.

Those who would like to comment on the year 2005 highway master plan may do in writing to the Lake County Division of Transportation, P.O. Box 220, Libertyville 60048.

New freeways and highways

New two freeways are being considered as part of the Lake County transportation master plan for the year 2005. One is Rte. 53, a new north-south freeway from Buffalo Grove and Kildeer to just south of Grayslake. There, it will connect with a new Rte. 120 east-west expressway from Park City.

Set blood pressure test

Free blood pressure screenings will be offered on the first Wednesday of each month at Saint Therese Medical Center Lobby from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and every Friday at Saint Therese Area Trauma Satellite, Lake Villa, in the Community Room from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

These screenings include free monitoring and recording of blood pressure.

Funeral services were conducted at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 22, 1988, at the K.K. HAMSHER FUNERAL HOME, 12 N. Pistakee Lake Rd., Fox Lake, Illinois (in the Chapel on the Lake), with the Reverend Lisa J. Kauffman officiating. Entombment will be in the Highland Memorial Park Cemetery in Libertyville, Illinois. In lieu of flowers, the family requests memorials to the Fox Lake Lions Club.

Albert W. Gatke

ago 73, a summer resident of the Spring Grove area for over 50 years and a permanent Spring Grove resident for the past nine years, died Friday, June 17, 1988, at St. Therese Hospital in Waukegon, Illinois. He was born January 26, 1915, in Indiana.

Mr. Gatke was formerly employed by the Chicago Tribune Newspaper and was active within the business administrative department. He was a veteran of World War II, having served with the Army Air Force. Mr. Gatke was a member of the Elks Lodge 2559 at Sun City, Arizona, and a former member of the Chicago Press Club.

He is survived by his wife, Frances Shepherd Gatke (nee Bojarski) of Spring Grove, Illinois; one sister, Dorothy (Steve) Phinney of Mequon, Wisconsin; two granddaughters, Tammy and Cori Johansen, both of Chicago; and other relatives survive.

He was preceded in death by his first wife, Alice, and by one daughter, Gay Lynn Johansen. Interment was in the Fairview Cemetery in Northlake, Illinois. Funeral arrangements were handled by the K.K. HAMSHER FUNERAL HOME, 12 N. Pistakee Road, Fox Lake, Illinois (in the Chapel on the Lake).

Thomas William Curnes ago 71, of Freeport, Illinois, formerly of Antioch, passed away Monday, May 9, 1988, at his home. He was born September 6, 1916, in Chicago, Illinois, and had lived in Antioch for many years before moving to Freeport in 1984.

He was a member of St. Peter's Church of Antioch and the Loyal Order of Moose of Woodbine, Virginia. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II.

He worked as an engineer for the Technical Service Corp., retiring in 1978.

Survivors include two sisters, Mary A. (John) Fries of Lake Bluff, Illinois, and Delorous (Gordon) Margard of Sugar Grove, North Carolina; and one brother, John F. Curnes, of Lake Bluff, Illinois.

He was preceded in death by one brother, Harry J. Curnes, on December 4, 1981.

A Memorial Mass will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, June 25, 1988, at St. Peter's Church, 557 Lake St., Antioch, Illinois. Interment was private, and there was no visitation. Friends desiring may make donations to the Antioch Township Library, Antioch, Illinois, 60002, in his memory. Arrangements by THE STRANG FUNERAL HOME, 1055 Main St., Antioch, Illinois.

Mary C. McDonald

ago 74, of Highland Lake, Illinois, died on Saturday, June 18, 1988, at St. Therese Medical Center in Waukegon, Illinois, following a sudden illness.

She was born in Burlington, Wisconsin, on June 1, 1914, and had made her home at Grayslake for over 50 years, and resided at Highland Lake for the past nine years. She attended the United Protestant Church in Grayslake and was an active member of the Grayslake Historical Society. She had been employed with Civil Services at Electronic Supply Office, Great Lakes, Illinois, for 35 years, retiring in 1979.

Survivors include one daughter, Gerolynn (Howard) Muenchhausen, and one son, Robert (Helen) McDonald, both of Grayslake; one sister, Ann Dromey of North Chicago, Illinois; one brother, Henry (June) Cunningham, Jr., of Hot Springs Village, Arkansas; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, June 21, 1988, at THE STRANG FUNERAL CHAPEL, 410 E. Belvidere Road, Grayslake, with Rev. Roger Baumeister, pastor of the United Protestant Church, officiating. Interment was at Angola Cemetery in Lake Villa, Illinois.

The project began November 16, 1986, and ran through March 31 of this year. Paratransit recorded 2,319 trips taken by persons using wheelchairs, with a total ridership of 34,056 during the project.

Home Builders presents 7th parade

The Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago (HBAGC) is presenting its seventh annual Parade of Homes in the Village of Mundelein July 10.

Visitors to the parade will view 12 custom homes priced between $225,000 and $300,000.

Participants showcasing their unique architectural concepts are:

BURNSIDE CONSTRUCTION: La Casa Grande's classic brick exterior surrounds luxury features in this 4 bedroom, two-and-a-half bath, two story home encompassing over 3,000 square feet. The many design surprises include a skylit two story foyer, a living room with creative window treatments and optional fireplace, a corner den which might serve as a quiet library or in-home office and a supluous oversized family room with vaulted ceiling.

CAMBRIDGE HOMES, INC: Cambridge Homes has designed the Whitehall, a 3,006 square foot classic, for a family who delights in entertaining yet treasures quiet moments alone. The two story home, with a brick and cedar exterior, is crowned by a cedar shake roof. Nine foot ceilings pervade throughout the first floor yielding a feeling of openness. Upstairs, the master suite stretches across the entire back of the home.

KIMBALL HILLS, INC: Beyond the dramatic two-story entryway of Seabrook Manor lies the formal living room with its visually dominating fireplace and sliding patio doors. The master suite, located on the main floor, assures peace and quiet while cathedral ceilings, an oversized tub, separate shower and large walk-in closet make it a perfect retreat.

HAWTHORN ESTATES, INC: The Bristol Manor starts with a custom brick design and continues with cedar on three sides. The sunken family room boasts an all-stone fireplace and wet bar. The oak staircase will lead to three bedrooms and a master suite with a private balcony. A two person whirlpool tub and woodburning fireplace make the master bath distinctive.

OAK RIDGE HOMES: The two story foyer of the Bennington is highlighted by a custom built oak staircase. The sunken library features rich oak paneling, bookcases and flooring. A walk-in wet bar, bow window and unique masonry fireplace enhances the spacious family room. The Bennington also includes a security system, intercom system, two and a half car garage, cedar shake roofing and copper bay window roofs.

TERRESTRIS DEVELOPMENT COMPANY: Light abounds in the Wellington, thanks to the skylights and handsome bay windows and air moves gently stirred by paddle fans. The breakfast room, with bay window, adjoins the European-style kitchen located just off the family room. Upstairs, the master suite occupies one wing of the house.

BONGI DEVELOPMENT CORP: Designed virtually "by popular demand", The Northpoint embodies a cornucopia of popular features: a formal living and dining room form a gallery of two story traditional rooms; large family room with loft area; bright kitchen with breakfast niche featuring all-glass exterior walls creating an atrium look; and a sun room off the breakfast room.

PRIME DEVELOPMENT LTD: The Austin is a stately 3,100 square foot antique brick and cedar-sided residence. Its graceful two story arched entry with marble foyer leads into a sunken living room offering an impressive marble fireplace with pilasters. There is a two story formal dining room, surrounded by an expansive mullioned bay window. The family room is enhanced by a beamed ceiling, combination built-in wet bar and aquarium, and masonry fireplace.

WESTFIELD HOMES, INC: The focal point of the first floor of the Westchester is the sun room with cathedral ceiling. It is separated from the family room by a glass block wall and French doors. A fireplace, highlights the loft overlooking the living room. The master bedroom with cathedral ceiling and skylights is designed as a retreat, with the bathing and wardrobe area set in a window turret.

THE BIGELOW GROUP: The warm brick and cedar exterior of the Country Home compliments the beauty of the leaded glass front doors and the dormers. The spacious kitchen, family living centre and sun room are under a two story cathedral ceiling. A loft

Pace gets corporate award

The Illinois Crime Prevention Assn. (ICPA) presented Pace, the Chicago area suburban bus service, with the Corporate Award at the ICPA's 1988 annual conference on Wednesday, June 22.

The members of the ICPA voted for Pace to receive the Corporate Award because of its outstanding participation in the Fleetwatch program.

Fleetwatch is a crime prevention program that enlists the help of citizens whose jobs take them into the community on a regular basis. Bus operators report any suspicious activities or persons they observe. They do not intervene in a situation, but report the incident to their dispatcher. The dispatcher then reports it to the police.

More than 200 Chicago-area communities are covered by the Pace Fleetwatch participants, which include more than 1500 drivers. These drivers reported more than 140 incidents during April.

Most of the incidents reported were car accidents, but other incidents included a wallet theft (the thief was apprehended), a knife fight, and sick or injured citizens.

Pace's involvement in Fleetwatch has grown by leaps and bounds during the past few months. Pace West Division began in the Fleetwatch Program April 29, 1987. Since then, the three other Pace owned divisions plus Pace subsidized and contract carriers have enlisted the program.

"This program is great! It really makes drivers feel involved and appreciated in the communities," said Bernie Miller, Pace West Division financial services officer.

Management Tribute Dinner on the upper level is open to both the great room and the foyer.

RINO BUILDERS, INC: The French Maison is a dramatic French inspired home of approximately 4,000 square feet with 4 bedrooms and three and a half baths. A floor to ceiling stone fireplace, beams, wet bar and cathedral ceiling comprise the great room. A massive oak staircase leads to the second floor. Solid heavy oak trim used throughout is apparent in every Rino home.

LANDMARK HOMES, INC: Designed in the stately Georgian tradition, this 2,801 square foot home, Plan 240D, reflects a quiet provincial charm reminiscent of colonial Williamsburg. Windows and doors throughout the first floor are accented by five inch fluted wood casing, with plinth blocks and milled rosettes embellishing the corners. Three roomy bedrooms and a master suite with cathedral ceiling are designed for optimum living.

The Parade will also feature an exhibit tent with products and services targeted to the home buying consumer. Displays offering information range from building products and security systems to utilities companies and mortgage firms.

Entertainment will be provided on the weekends in a carnival atmosphere by Andy the Clown, Roger Seigel the Balloon Man and the band "Banjo Buddies."

Admission charges are $5 for adults, $4 for senior citizens. Children 12 and under will be admitted free of charge. Hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily. (Ticket booth closes at 7 p.m.)

To visit the Parade of Homes, take the Tri-state Tollway or Route 21 (Milwaukee Ave.) to Route 60 (Townline Rd.). Take Townline Rd. west until it merges with Rte. 83; follow Rte. 60/83 northwesterly to the Parade site just south of Hawley St. in Mundelein.

Chairman visits hospital

Robert A. Schoellhorn, chairman and chief executive officer of Abbott Laboratories, visited with Christine Murphy, 10, of South Bend, Indiana, and other patients of the Children's Memorial Medical Center. Schoellhorn has announced that Abbott Labs will underwrite cost of preview gala for Chicago International New Art Forms Exposition, September 23 at Navy Pier, for second year in row. Gala will benefit Meryl Suzonne Weiss Fund for pediatric cancer research at Children's Memorial.

Carmel students attend Illinois Business Week

The National Federation of Independent Business in Illinois, the state's largest business organization representing nearly 14,000 small businesses, is announcing the acceptance of the following students for Illinois Business Week 1988: Susan Anger, Kimberly Boydston, Tara Griffin, Dorie Hertel, Wendy Huening, Lisa Link and Michele Nutschig, all from Carmel High School for Girls in Mundelein.

Illinois Business Week is a dynamic, week-long program in which high school sophomores, juniors, and teachers not only learn the fundamentals of our free enterprise system, but experience the excitement and realities of running a business. The program will be held August 7-13 at North Central College in Naperville.

New loan officer

Rondy Miles, president of Stote Bank of Antioch, has announced promotion of Sheila E. Linker to Installment Loan Officer. Linker began her career at Stote Bank in 1973, working in General Books, New/Customer Service and Commercial Lending until 1980. In October 1986, she returned to bank and began intensive training program in installment lending. She attended Northern Illinois (DeKalb) and was employed with Lincoln National Bank and All American Bank, Chicago, before joining Stote Bank. She and her husband, Tam, with children Pamela (B) and Ryan (4) are residents of Bristol Wisconsin.

Commuter survey finds workers close to home

Intrigued by the conventional wisdom that Lake County folk work close to home, Harry L. Dolan, a Lincolnshire resident who commutes to Dolan Associates just next door, in Bannockburn, reviewed the U.S. Census Bureau numbers. The result?

"The proportion of workers whose office is near home was consistently around the 90 percent mark for the communities surveyed (Bannockburn, Buffalo Grove, Green Oaks, Lincolnshire and Vernon Hills)," Dolan said, adding: "Only about 10 percent of Lake County people contribute to, and suffer from, Chicago's rush hours."

Following are details of Dolan's survey:

-Bannockburn, second wealthiest of Chicago's 274 suburbs (with a 1985 median income of $76,902), has an 85/15 breakout of immediate area vs. city.

-Lincolnshire, fourth wealthiest (median of $70,581), has a 90/10 comparison.

-Green Oaks, 24th wealthiest (median of $48,716), has a 95/5.

-Buffalo Grove, 51st on the wealth list (median of $39,562), has an 85/15 ratio.

-And Vernon Hills, 104th wealthiest (median of $33,064), has a 90/10 comparison.

"Since the North Shore is THE area for top corporation executives to live in, and since executives—like everyone else who can do it—prefer to work near where they live, the ratio of Lake County to Chicago will continue in favor of the home area," predicted Dolan.

In Lincolnshire, for example—Dolan's home for 14 years—there are 2.5 million square feet of office/industrial space up, with another two million square feet planned.

Lincolnshire is one of the few suburbs on the 10 wealthiest list (in order: Kenilworth, Bannockburn, Oak Brook, Lincolnshire, Inverness, Olympia Fields, Glencoe, Barrington Hills, Kildeer and South Barrington) to allow industrial development. Most of the Lake County communities in Dolan's survey allow tax-generating office development.

"Success breeds success, whether in person or in a community," observed Dolan, explaining: "The heads of major corporations live in the finest suburbs and, when they relocate their companies, they want the same work environment—and prestigious address—nearby." As a result, posh suburbs like Lincolnshire and Bannockburn are burgeoning—and benefiting from tax revenues and home value appreciation in ever-upward spirals.

Dolan saw the benefits to developmental growth in the Tri-State Corridor early, when he opened the 130,000-square-foot Bannockburn Executive Plaza in 1978. He also is developing the 93-acre Lincolnshire Business Center, two years ahead of his marketing schedule.

Howard J. Brinton

Brinton to speak to realtors

Howard J. Brinton, nationally known real estate expert and motivational speaker, will be the guest speaker at a breakfast meeting of the Lake County Realtors sponsored by Hunt Club Farms and Mill Creek Crossing at 8 a.m., Friday, June 24. The topic of the lecture is "Negotiating Your Way to Success".

The outdoor breakfast will take place near the visitors' center of the two North Lake County developments on Stearns School Rd. just west of Hunt Club Rd.

Brinton is founder and former head of Brinton and Company, a Denver real estate and marketing firm. His personal achievements while with the company include $57 million in sales and three consecutive years of closing more than 100 transactions.

Currently a resident of Scotsdale, Az., Brinton holds offices with the local and state boards of realtors as well as the National Residential Sales Council.

Award grants

The Lake County Auto Body Association, a professional organization for members of the auto body field, has given three cash awards to students graduating from the Auto Body program of the Lake County Area Vocational Center. The Association interviewed six students and made awards to the following students: $300 to Al Rosio, Alden-Hebron High School; $150 to Dominic Nichilo, Highland Park High School; $100 to Mike Eames, Deerfield High School.

Promote Salvatore

Joseph A. Salvatore has been promoted to division controller in the corporate engineering division at Abbott Laboratories.

Previously, Salvatore was assistant division controller in the hospital products division. He joined the company in 1977 as a financial analyst at the company's Faultless Rubber plant in Ashland, Ohio.

He holds a bachelor's degree in biology and chemistry and an M.B.A. degree in finance from the University of Notre Dame in Indiana.

Bank hosts movie

The First National Bank of Antioch hosted a children's matinee at the Antioch Theatre. The movie, "Pound Puppies", was an animated adventure. Entry to the movie was one or more cans of non-perishable goods to be donated to the Antioch Food Pantry. Over 100 children attended the matinee and made donations to the Food Pantry.

Mega entertainment event

Linda Eder, left, $100,000 winner of 'Star Search', joins stars like Roy Clark, right, Frankie Valli and Rich Little in July 4 weekend at Mega Center of Pheasant Run Resort in St. Charles. There will be a series of five shows on Friday, through Sunday, July 1-3 to introduce year-old 3,500 seat entertainment center drawing audiences from all over Chicago area.

Bears, Cubs, to appear at NutraSweet Classic

The NutraSweet Classic, a national series of five charity sports events benefitting the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, takes its final step toward a $500,000 goal at Kemper Lakes Golf Club, Hawthorn Woods, on Monday, June 27.

Sports stars, entertainers and media members will be joining local business and civic leaders for a day of golf and tennis at the third annual Chicago NutraSweet Classic. The event is expected to raise $100,000 for diabetes research.

"The NutraSweet Classic series helps build awareness across the United States of the need for diabetes research," said Robert B. Shapiro, chairman and chief executive officer, the NutraSweet Co. "These tournaments provide important research funds which will help eradicate a disease that afflicts nearly 12 million Americans."

"There has been significant progress toward a cure for diabetes since the inaugural NutraSweet Classic in 1986," added Joan Beaubaire, president, Juvenile Diabetes Foundation International.

In addition to Chicago, other NutraSweet Classics this year have been held in New York, Los Angeles, Atlanta and Dallas.

Among the celebrities who will participate in the Chicago fundraiser are former Bears stars Gale Sayers and Ted Albrecht; current Bears Matt Suhey, Emery Moorehead and Steve McMichael; former Cubs Ron Santo, Randy Hundley and Andy Pafko; and Blackhawks Doug Wilson and Bob Murray.

Due to a record number of entries, the 18-hole best-ball golf tournament will feature a double shotgun (morning and afternoon). There also will be a round-robin doubles tennis competition and an awards banquet. Additionally, PGA Tour member Mark Lye will conduct a series of golf clinics.

The Deerfield-based NutraSweet Co. is fully underwriting the event so all proceeds will be donated to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation to fund research to find a cure for diabetes. Equal brand sweetener is a premier national sponsor of the tournaments.

Sec. Edgar surviving many chicken dinners

by JOSEPH SOULAK

If anyone likes chicken it might be Sec. of State Jim Edgar. He's eaten enough of it in his days as a legislator from central Illinois and 7.5 years in his present job. "I like chicken," he admits candidly.

Chicken and peas is the standard fare of political dinners. It is easy to prepare, most people like it and the low cost puts more money in the treasury of the sponsor. But most party faithful show up no matter what the menu. Attendance also depends on the guest or main speaker.

That's especially true when the "name" is Jim Edgar. "People in Lake County have always supported me by doing more than electing me," the tall, dark haired and good-looking 41-year-old politician said. "People in this part of Illinois are real," he added. "This isn't suburbia, but it isn't rural either. No one is pretentious, but they're down to earth, just like the place I come from in Illinois," he said of his hometown of Charleston.

How does Edgar keep his figure, weight and good looks? "I have to watch myself and what I eat," he admitted. "Naturally, I like all of the bad foods." By watching himself he means being in bed by 11 p.m., waking up the next morning and running at least two miles. That is the regimen at home or away. "When in Springfield my wife says I'm not home if I'm not there before 9 p.m., which means I'm away three or four nights a week." Sometimes he is away, a long way away.

What do the long hours, trips, chicken dinners, endless handshakes and speeches mean? Is Jim Edgar building one of the biggest campaign treasuries in the state just to run again for secretary of state? "I'm running for office every day of the week," he said of a desire to keep a high profile statewide. "As for governor, everyone in Springfield I know would like to be in that office."

Jim Edgar with Mayor Dam

That's why Edgar's name and face will continue showing up a lot more in the months and year to come. All of which means a lot more chickens headed for the dinner table.

Sheriff goes fishin'

University honors graduate

Mary Elizabeth Gesking, daughter of Glen and Mary Gesking of Grayslake has been graduated from Gateway Technical College as a Surgical Technician. She was one of 17 which graduated from the Surgical Technician Program.

Running for Senate

Herman Kohl, Milwaukee businessman, owner of Milwaukee Bucks basketball team, announced he will seek the U.S. Senate seat to be vacated by Sen. William Proxmire. Kohl's family used to own department store chain bearing their name. He now heads his own investment firm. He claims he is running because he is disturbed at what he sees happening in Washington, where government often seems to serve every interest but the people.

In high circles

Two area sisters met State Sen. Adeline Geo-Koris and Ill. Gov. James Thompson while visiting Springfield. From left, Geo-Koris, Anne Morie Vineski, 5, Miss Junior Illinois; Thompson and Terese Vineski, 7, Miss Junior America Talent Queen. Both are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Vineski, Waukegan. Anne Morie will represent Illinois in nationally televised Miss Junior America Pageant.

Wins scholarship

Suzanne Haack, Ingleside, has been selected for the Wartburg Women's Club scholarship by Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Haack of Ingleside.

Sherling graduates

Karin Beth Sherling, of Indian Trail Dr. in Round Lake Park, graduated from Hamline University majoring in English and completing a professional education sequence, leading to a teaching license.

Showstoppers

Open house at Cook Home to run through Aug. 28

The Ansel B. Cook home and museum, 413 North Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, will be open for touring from 2 until 4 p.m. each Sunday through Aug. 28.

Members of the Libertyville-Mundelein Historical Society will serve as hosts while the public views the house and beautiful rose garden out front on any of 14 Sundays.

Built in 1878, the Cook home has been completely restored and the furnishings depict the house as it appeared in the Victorian period.

After entering the massive front door and passing through a small entryway, the first site greeting visitors is the ornate stairway leading to the second floor.

On the left is the front parlor, filled with antique furniture. A unique Ansonia clock of the 1800's rests on the mantel of one of the seven Italian fireplaces found in the house.

Adjacent to this room is the second parlor, or sitting room, also refurbished as it was over 100 years ago. A still playable, old-fashioned foot-pump organ stands against one wall of this room.

A table set for dinner and a large china cabinet, filled with pink cranberry glassware, give the dining room an authentic look of long ago. The table has four matching place settings, including crystal salt dishes and tiny salt-serving spoons.

The kitchen features, among many things, a Garland wood-burning stove, a breakfast table, a sink made of zinc, and many utensils used for cooking and baking.

In the pantry, a large assortment of other accessories hang on the walls or rest on shelves. A restored "Freezit" ice box also is in the pantry together with a pail-like dough mixer for making bread.

On the second floor of the house, visitors see a child's room filled with toys of long ago and many other items children of the late 1800's enjoyed.

The master bedroom contains a large, half-canopy bed, dresser, night stand with a pitcher and wash basin, and a commode, just as they appeared when the Cooks occupied the house.

Ansel B. Cook's study, next to the master bedroom, is furnished with his desk which features a "secret" storage area and a roll-away top. The huge desk weighs hundreds of pounds.

Shaving mugs, formerly owned by pioneer Libertyville residents, stand next to a collection of very old books on numerous wall shelves. In one corner of the room is the original safe owned by the town's early-day blacksmith.

Other rooms on the second floor feature collections of numerous interesting objects including a desk with compartments used to sort mail in the community's first post office. A wooden box, into which people dropped letters in 1838, sits on top of the desk.

The main office and headquarters of the Libertyville-Mundelein Historical Society occupy one room on the second floor. In this office are the archives consisting of irreplaceable pictures, documents and a wealth of local historical information.

Length of time required to tour the home varies according to the individual. A quick walk-through can be completed in about a half hour. However, several days could be spent viewing all the historically significant items, maps and photographs.

Guided tours for groups of any size, on days other than open house Sundays in the summer, can be arranged by writing to the Libertyville-Mundelein Historical Society, 413 North Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, Ill. 60048.

For more information, contact Kenneth Schar, (312)362-1411 or Cook Memorial Library, (312)362-2330.

ROCK TRACKS

The London music scene, 1976: Graham Parker and the Rumor, already pub-rock favorites and part of the avant-garde of Britain's emerging new wave/angry young man movement, release their debut album, Howlin' Wind. Critics respond to this power-driven music that is at once literate and humorous, soulful and angst-ridden, and the embodiment of the essence of 60's rock and roll. Word reaches the U.S., too, and by 1977, Graham and the Rumor's second LP, Heat Treatment, is commanding constant critical attention. Newsweek focuses in on Parker, calling him a "heavyweight"; the Los Angeles Times says, "[He has] the kind of bold artistic promise to make even the most disheartened cynic believe rock can matter again."

Graham and the Rumor follow up with two more releases that the press does not embrace, Stick To Me and The Parkerilla, though interest and confidence in the artist and the band remains. In 1979, undaunted and alive with renewed creativity, Parker and the Rumor release Squeezing Out Sparks and earlier press projections are confirmed.

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland

'Pal Joey' glitzy, but play is dated

by TOM WITOM

"Pal Joey", at Chicago's Goodman Theater, has all the earmarks of an extravaganza—flashy sets, dazzling costumes and the still-fresh music and lyrics of the old masters, Rodgers and Hart.

On the down side, however, it lacks grit.

John O'Hara's book may have turned Broadway on its ear as a musical comedy in 1940. Today, its innovativeness seems old hat.

The 26-member cast is a feast for the eye (the showgirls dressed variously as sunflowers, lillies and roses in "The Flower Garden of My Heart" are a particular delight), and there's still plenty of lyrical music in such classics as "Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered" and "I Could Write a Book".

Yet Kevin Anderson, despite a strong acting background, seems miscast in the lead role. He fails to grow into the character of Joey Evans, an unscrupulous song-and-dance man who lands a nightclub job in Chicago, and who talks his way into the hearts and boudoirs of an innocent chorine and an equally calculating wealthy society type.

Anderson goes through the motions, but not always with a lot of energy and soul.

The real star is Carlin Glynn as Vera Simpson, the "rich old mouse" who bankrolls Joey in exchange for a tenuous lock on his affections. Hers is a spirited, heady performance.

Katherine Meloche, as Linda English, one of Joey's broken-hearted conquests, also does a stunning job, showing the proper mix of sensitivity and dim-wittedness demanded by her part.

Set designer Thomas Lynch has outdone himself. The Goodman stage has its rollaway props down to a science. The Chicago scene used as a backdrop is spectacular. "Pal Joey", which runs through Aug. 7, has its moments and director Robert Falls had brought them out, but he still cannot disguise the fact that the play itself is dated.

Lawrence grad

Jennifer Horne, daughter of Mrs. Barbara Horne, Lindenhurst, received the bachelor of arts degree in psychology during Lawrence University's 139th commencement ceremonies on Sunday, June 12. Horne is a 1984 graduate of Antioch Community High School.

New airman

Airman Gary R. Wells, son of Rolland J. Wells of Fox River Grove and Nancy G. Wells of McHenry has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tx. He is a 1987 graduate of Richmond-Burton School.

In 'Pal Joey'

Kevin Anderson, from Lake County, plays title role along with Corlin Glynn who get kudos for her portrayal from Lakeland critic, Tom Wittom, in Goodman Theatre's production of "Pal Joey." Glitz revival of musical is scheduled to play at Goodman most of summer.

Mega entertainment means stars Valli, Clark, Little

Big name entertainment makes its debut Independence Day weekend at the Mega Center of Pheasant Run Resort, St. Charles, with a benefit for the Veterans Economic Development Council starring Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons, Roy Clark and Rich Little.

A series of five shows on Friday through Sunday, July 1-3, will introduce the year-old Mega Center, a 3,500-seat, 50,000 square foot facility, to Chicago and suburban audiences as a new center of entertainment that will feature monthly concerts by major musical and comedy performers.

All ticket proceeds of the kick-off "Mega Event '88" will be donated to the Veterans Economic Development Council, the non-profit organization that coordinates education, training, career and business development for Chicago area veterans.

The council, established in 1986 as an outgrowth of the Chicago Viet Nam Veterans Parade, is coordinated by an advisory committee chaired by Gen. (Retired) Neil Creighton, president of the Cantigny Charitable Trust and director of the Robert R. McCormick Charities.

"Mega Event '88" opens on Friday, July 1, with a 7:30 p.m. show starring Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons, the rock and roll group that sold more than 50 million records (second only to the Beatles) in the 1960's.

Saturday, July 2, brings country music into the spotlight with the versatile virtuoso, Roy Clark and his band, plus Chicago's own Joel Daly and the Sundowners.

On Sunday, July 3, master mimic and comedian Rich Little headlines two shows at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. with special guest Linda Eder, the dynamic female vocalist winner of the 1987 $100,000 Star Search.

Tickets for each of the "Mega Event '88" shows are priced at $14 for regular seating, $18 and $22 for table seating. Cocktail service will be available before and during all performances. "Mega Event" attendees are also invited to take advantage of special Independence Day weekend packages for one or two nights at Pheasant Run, The midwest's largest resort complex.

Three different package plans are offered, each including tickets to one or more "Mega Event" shows, beginning from $79 to $90 per person, double occupancy. Pheasant Run is located on Ill. Rte. 64 (North Ave.) between Rte. 59 and the city of St. Charles.

Reservations for "Mega Event '88" are now being accepted. Call (312) 584-6300, Ext. 88, for show tickets only. For information on resort package plans, telephone (312) 584-6300, Ext. 99.

Children have fun at Volo Bog

Volo Bog State Natural Area, 28478 W. Brandenburg Rd., Ingleside, has some exciting fun in store just for children throughout the summer of 1988, including a unique series of wetland programs and a wild wetlands art contest.

The summer wetlands programs will be Wednesday afternoons from 2 to 4 p.m. Activities vary with the age groups, but include story reading, wetland crafts and games, and building a wildlife observation blind and holding a wetland debate. All groups will get wet at least once as they explore a marsh up close.

Tadpole Scouts is for those in preschool (minimum age five) up to first grade, and will meet June 22 and 29.

Wetland Explorers is for those in second to fourth grades and will meet July 6, 13, 20 and 27.

Wetland Researchers is for those in fifth to seventh grades. The groups will meet August 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31.

Each student signs up for an entire series of three, four or five sessions. Class size is limited, and pre-registration is required by phone at (815) 344-1294.

The Wild Wetlands Art Contest is open to those from five to 14 years of age. There will be judging and prizes in 10 categories; five age categories and two art mediums. All work must revolve around a wetlands theme. The artwork will be judged by Volo Bog personnel. All entries must be submitted by Sunday, July 10, and will be displayed at the Volo Bog Visitor Center from July 14 until Aug. 28. Prizes will be awarded on Saturday, Aug. 14, at 2 p.m. in the Visitor Center.

Schedule anniversary celebration

The dates of festival that will fete the Fifth Anniversary of the Cornerstone Festival is Thursday, June 30, Friday, July 1, Saturday, July 2 and Sunday, July 3.

Parola contributes Grayslake Community High School graduate Todd Parola has completed their season with the Indiana baseball team.

In Bloomington, Parola hit .268 in 25 games for the Hoosiers. Parola had 11 in 41 at-bats, nine walks and seven hits. Parola, a second baseman, had two errors all season for a .936 fielding average.

Indiana finished the Big Ten season 11-17, 39-19 overall.

Select Dean chairman

Raig Dean, M.D., of Libertyville and director of emergency medicine at Condell Memorial Hospital is again serving as chairman of the Illinois State Medical Society Physician Games to be held June 24 and 25 in Oak Brook. The Illinois State Medical Society represents 17,000 physicians statewide.

Dr. Dean, a member of the American College of Sports Medicine and the American College of Emergency Medicine has been active in organizing and directing numerous athletic programs and educational events throughout the state.

Dr. Dean, as well as working at the Libertyville hospital, is serving as a vice director for the Condell Distance Classic, now in its 12th year; as a board member for the Lake County Heart Association, and was the founder of the Liberty Rd. and Track Club, sponsored by the Medical Center of Lake County.

Offer tennis lessons

Senior and junior high school students interested in improving their tennis game may wish to enroll at tennis camps sponsored by the College of Lake County this summer.

Directed by CLC Tennis Coach Lane Everett, the senior high school camp will be July 18-29. The junior high camp will be Aug. 1-12. Both will be co-ed.

Cost is $65 per student and enrollment is limited to the first 24 enrolling in each session.

For more information and application, call (312) 223-3600.

Offer golf tickets

Tickets for the 1988 Western Open Golf Tournament to be held at Butler National Golf Club in Oak Brook may be purchased at the First National Bank, One First Bank Plaza in Lake Zurich from June 30 to July 3.

The bank is offering several different ticket plans, for persons interested in attending the event. Individual tickets good for any day are available for Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Grounds and pavillion (refreshment area) tickets are $18. Grounds only tickets are $15. Tickets for the Wednesday, June 29 Chick Evans' Memorial Pro-Am Tournament are also available at the bank.

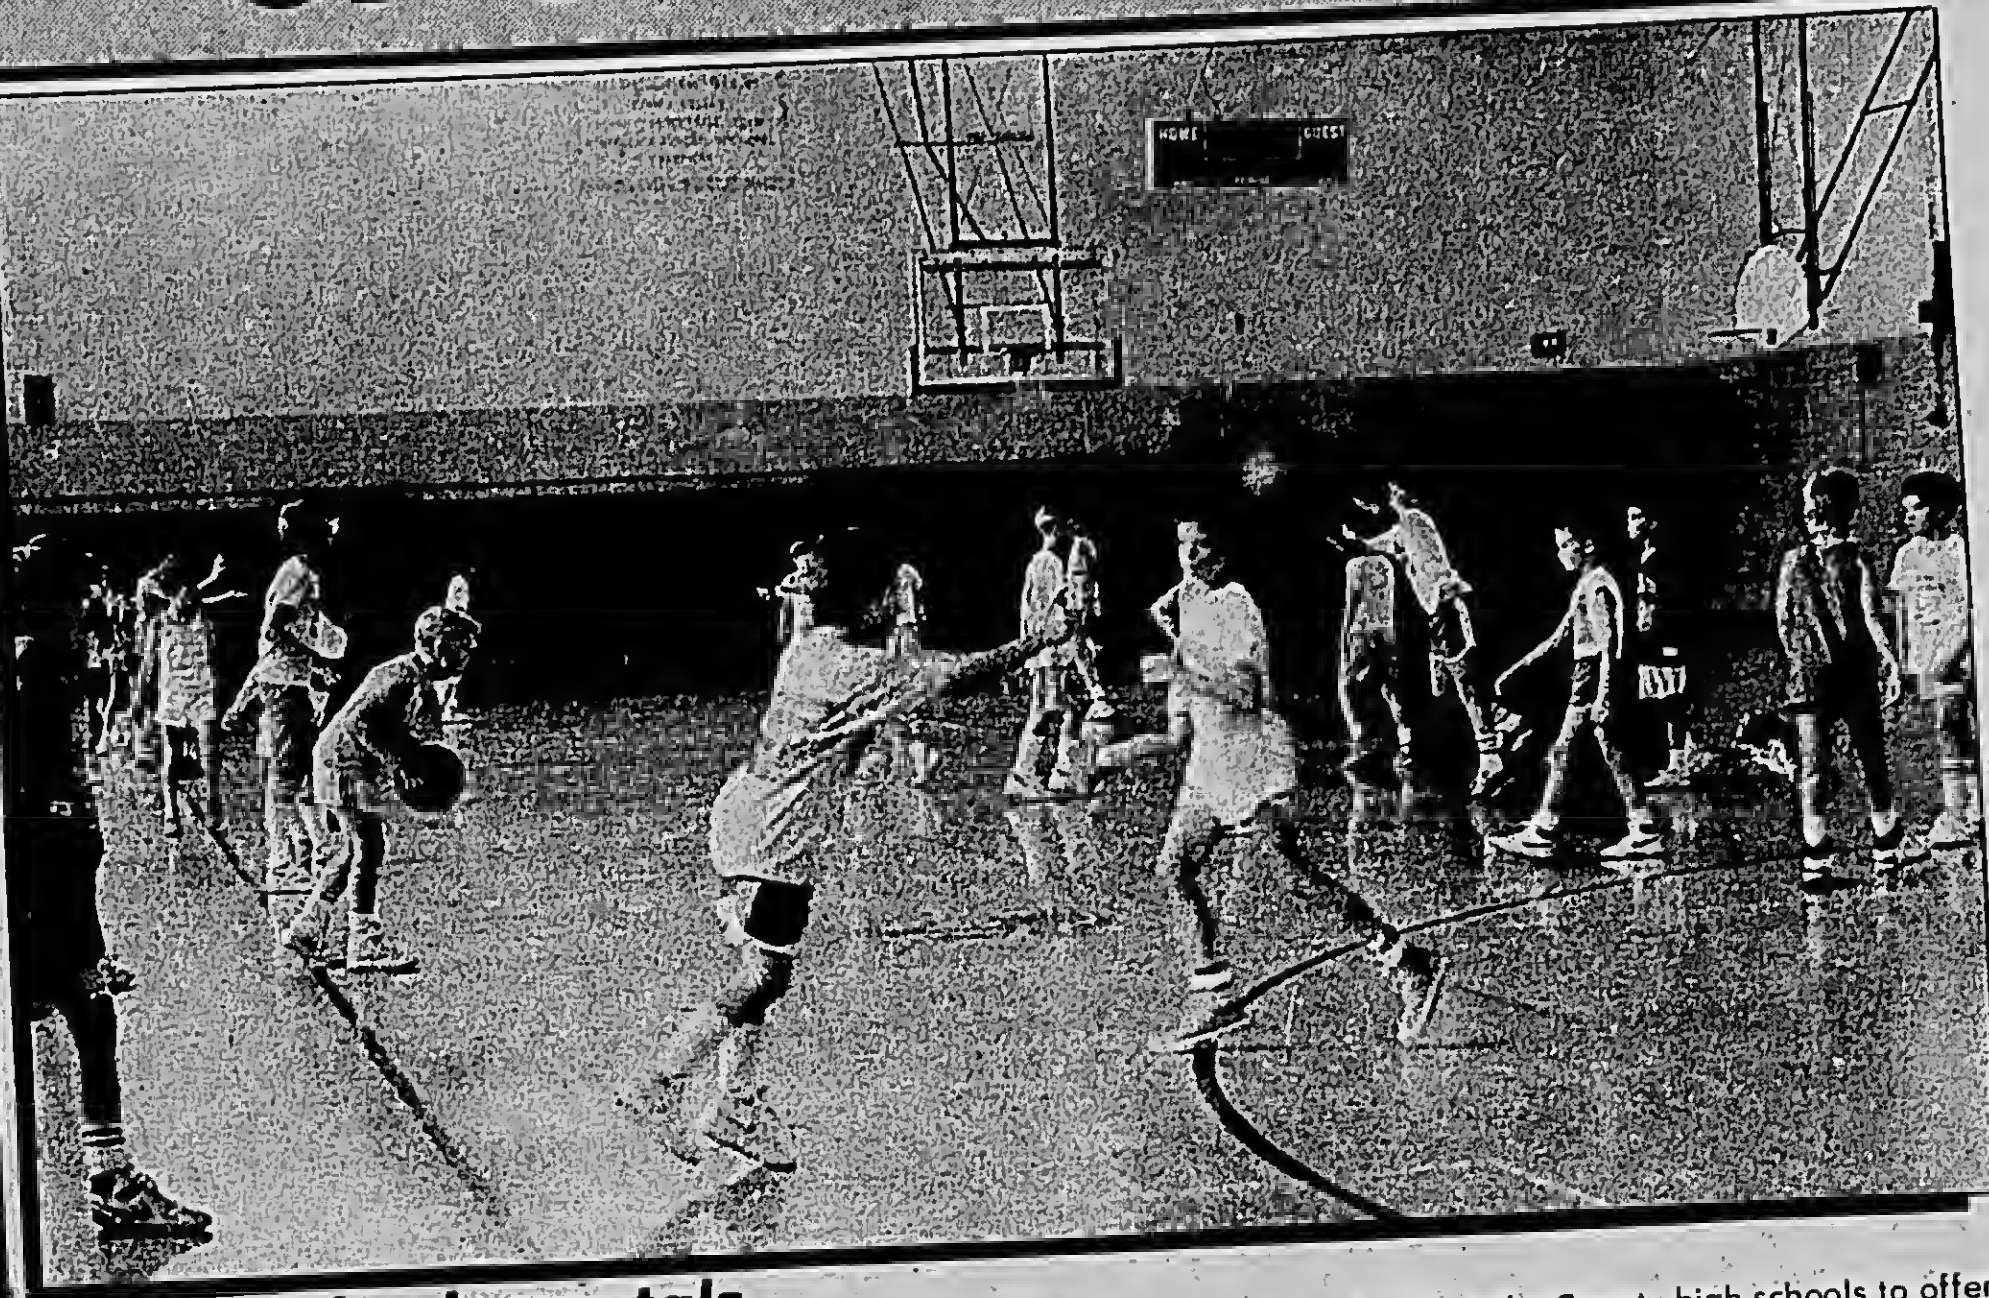

For more information, call (312) 438-1100.

Coaching changes

Summer is the time of year when high school boards of education set their staffing for upcoming fall and winter sports seasons.

At Johnsburg, sophomore football coach Hap Farlow has been promoted to head the varsity Skyhawks. Farlow replaces Mike Roberts, who is leaving Johnsburg to take an assistant coach position at Northern Illinois University.

At Antioch, girls basketball coach Jeff Dresser has been selected to replace Don Zeman as head boys basketball coach. Zeman quit earlier this year.

Learning fundamentals

Fundamentals, fun highlight basketball camp

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Basketball season may seem like a long way off, but in some respects the 1988-89 campaign begins this month.

That's right, in June. No, no formal games will be played but several Lake County schools are hosting basketball camps for incoming youngsters.

This week, Carmel hosted a boys camp, Warren both boys and girls, Round Lake a boys camp and Antioch hosted a girls camp. Although the coaches displayed a wide variety of philosophies this winter, they have a common theme for now.

"We think it is very important in terms of getting the kids involved in our offense and defense," Round Lake boys Coach Bob Ward said.

At Round Lake, campers are divided into age groups. Incoming eighth through 10th graders, new 11th and 12th graders, seventh and eighth graders and fifth and sixth graders are taught the basics.

"We teach the basic skills at all the levels," Ward said.

Ward said that it is "good to get them early (in the summer). It gives the kids an idea of what we want to do."

The Panther mentor, whose forces won a regional last year before losing to Warren in the opening game in overtime at Waukegan East's sectional, said it is an important time for the older players as well. The camp is the last time the Round Lake staff is allowed by IHSA regulations to see the players before they compete in the Waukegan summer league.

At Carmel High School in Mundelein, basketball campers are also divided by grade. Fourth through sixth graders meet in the morning and then the seventh and eighth graders meet in the afternoon. Also, a week is added for the seventh and eighth graders.

Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg, who is coaching his seventh camp at Carmel, believes fun should be mixed in with the basketball basics. "Basketball should be a game they will enjoy," he said.

Rosberg said the reason an extra week is added for the seventh and eighth graders is their interest in the game is higher as well as their skill levels.

But grade schoolers aren't the only ones who may benefit from a Carmel camp this summer. CHS offers a camp for high school players July 5-22.

"Mainly they are freshmen and sophomores but we get some eighth graders who will be freshmen and some juniors so we get a good mix," Rosberg said.

Carmel is also offering a camp for girls this summer.

At Antioch, Coach Jeff Dresser

conducted a girls camp for players in grades six through nine.

And at Warren, Coach Bruce Campbell started a camp on June 14 which runs until July 1 and the boys camp, under the direction of Darrel Bader, started June 15.

Summer camps are not limited to basketball.

Carmel and Warren both hosted camps for volleyball.

Northwest's Tae Kwon Do artists now national qualifiers

A Mundelein and a Grayslake resident gained valuable experience as well as success in competing in a national Tae Kwon Do meet held in Little Rock, Ark.

Dennis Reiter, 32, of Grayslake, won two first place awards in the 1988 Grand Nationals while Melissa Glod, 28, of Mundelein, was a national qualifier in the women's competition.

Both compete at Northwest Tae Kwon Do in Grayslake under the instruction of Barry Elkes.

A total of nine martial artists qualified for nationals from the Grayslake branch of Northwest and the Arlington Heights office.

Elkes said that 20 students regularly compete at the Grayslake facility and the age range is from 12 years to 44-years-old.

Northwest Tae Kwon Do is located at 2 N. Lake St. in Grayslake, sharing the building with the Gymnastics Factory.

Students at Northwest presently are enrolled in three-day-a-week classes.

Kazlauskys adjusts, discovers success for Air Force team

Grant High School baseball star Mike Kazlauskys, like all college freshmen, had some adjusting to do in his first year. But the former Bulldog came through with flying colors for the Air Force's baseball team, earning the team's rookie of the year honor.

Kazlauskys played in 51 games for the Air Force and hit .342, 402 in the Western Athletic Conference games.

"His goal was to make the team and he kept battling and battling," Fritz Kazlauskys, Mike's dad and Grant High mentor, said.

Kazlauskys had one home run, scored 53 runs, had 14 doubles and three triples. The frosh proved to have a good eye for bad pitches, as he walked 36 times, setting a school record.

Defensively, Kazlauskys played third and second base before settling in at shortstop.

Air Force was 25-33 last year, 11-17 in the WAC.

Kazlauskys saved one of his better days for a time when his parents could be in the stands. He hit five-for-five against New Mexico that day.

Girls tracksters' success highlights Antioch's spring

The girls track success story highlighted the spring sports seasons at Antioch Community High School.

The team finished fourth at the North Suburban Conference meet and fifth place overall in team standings.

At the Glenbrook South Invitational, the girls placed sixth out of 16 teams, were eighth out of 15 at Lake Forest and were second out of six teams at the Lake Forest freshmen-sophomore invitational.

The Sequoits won the Woodstock Invitational, coming home with the first-place trophy.

At the sectional meet, the Sequoits placed second out of 17 teams at Crystal Lake Central. Qualifying for the state meet at Eastern Illinois University were: Kristin Morgan in the shot put, Vicky Simons in the long jump and 100 meter dash, Liz Waters in the 3,200 meter run and Deanna Olenick, Morgan, Simons and Michelle Hanson in the 80 meter medley relay. Morgan, a senior, set new school records in the shot put while Simons set new marks in the long jump and 100 meter dash.

The Sequoits are looking for another strong season in 1989 as they graduate only four seniors.

In boys track, Antioch finished the season in seventh place in the NSC and was 4-5 in dual meets. Overall, the Sequoits were 7-5 in dual meet competition.

The frosh-soph team won the NSC meet by winning eight of 18 events and scoring 123 points.

Chosen by their teammates for honors were: Jim Keim, most valuable; Jeremy Richter, most improved and Kevin Maginn, team captain. Chris Horton qualified for the state meet in the pole vault.

The varsity baseball team finished 10-17 overall and 6-12 in the NSC. The highlight was a regional win over Northwest Suburban Conference champion Round Lake. Scott Pasquini was voted team captain while Adam Ring was named most improved and Matt Kruczek most valuable player.

Finalize Hospice

Plans have entered the final stages for the seventh annual STAR Hospice Golf and Tennis Outing to be sponsored by St. Therese Medical Center on July 11 at Glen Flora County Club.

Reservations are quickly filling up the roster, according to Richard Kennedy, committee chairman.

Tee-off times at the benefit run from 7 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The day includes a continental breakfast, luncheon, dinner, cocktail, golf cart, all green fees, locker pool and gratuities as well as other surprises, for a fee of $150 per person.

CLC presents scholarship

Family and friends of late Bud Weick were on hand for presentation of two $500 College of Lake County scholarships named for former CLC wrestling coach and teacher. The Bud Weick long-time Lake County high school wrestling coach and teacher. The Bud Weick Memorial Wrestling Award will be given annually to two CLC students selected for their athletic and academic achievements. From left: Curtis Gentry, CLC Athletic Dir.; Rosellen (Mrs. Bill) Weick; Stan Posiewicz, CLC wrestling coach; Bill Weick, Bud's brother; Elizabeth Eggebercht, Weick's mother; Joon Harris, Weick's fiance and Fred Laffredo, administrator of memorial fund at Fox Lake State Bank.

A healthy vacation alternative

by JIM WARREN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL

Want to be pampered and lose a few pounds at the same time? Maybe you're already in shape and don't want to lose it all to a vacation of eating and laying around the pool. A vacation at one of the many spas and health resorts may be just what the doctor ordered.

Health resorts and spas run from the basic to the extreme. Virtually all have pools (some fed by mineral springs), saunas, steam rooms, whirlpools, gyms and fitness classes.

Most spas offer personalized diet and exercise programs as well as the pampering luxuries of massage, herbal wraps, facials and European-style beauty treatments. Some even include medical screening, with things like blood analysis, strength and range-of-motion testing and body composition testing.

Many programs now include classes for the mind. You learn to develop a better mental attitude toward eating and exercise, as well as methods of relieving stress in everyday life.

In short, you'll come home from your vacation with a trimmer and healthier body and a better attitude towards yourself.

You'll find this type of vacation probably most anywhere you want to travel. The most famous are located in Europe, but there are many fine spas and health resorts throughout the U.S. and even the Caribbean. Most of the better spas in the U.S. are located in California and other warm weather states.

Package rates, including meals, run anywhere from $75 to $300 a night, depending on how extensive a program you choose.

This year, why not try the healthy alternative. Have your travel agent book a spa vacation for you.

MHS students look toward European soccer trip

When three Mundelein students return to Mundelein High School in August, they will not be telling their friends about the usual summer jobs, parties and typical vacation trips. But for Jim Wells, Geoff Vandussen and Ben Farrington, their "summer vacation" stories will be filled with details about how they learned soccer by playing against the best competitors in the world. The three will be competing for teams sponsored by Teams USA, which is offering a unique soccer experience.

Wells, presently a senior at MHS, said the experience began when Teams USA ran a classified ad seeking players interested in trying out for the teams.

"They were looking for the basic skills with three-on-three or two-on-two drills," Wells said.

Wells, a fullback, will be competing on the 17-years-old and under team.

The trio are all graduates of Mundelein's popular American Youth Soccer Organization (AYSO) leagues and have played on traveling leagues.

"It should help when we come back. After playing against some tough competition, you know where you have to improve yourself," Wells said.

While Wells works on his skills as a fullback, Vandussen will be working on his goalie skills and Farrington, a sophomore, will be working on his midfield-forward pointers.

The three will depart on June 27 and return after the 35-day trip on Aug. 7.

The Teams USA forces will play three matches at each site. The trip includes matches against club teams in Holland, playing in the German and Denmark cups tournaments and in Paris as well.

In addition to the soccer experience Wells will bring back for the Mustangs, the tourists in the three will also enjoy the scenic vacation.

Moran wins championship, qualifies for tennis finals

Bob Moran added his name to the list of tennis players who have qualified for the tournament of champions in the Coca Cola-Penn-Lakeland Newspapers tennis tournament.

Moran defeated Mark Norby 6-2, 6-1 to win the Lindenhurst title June 19, qualifying him for the final tournament in Mundelein in August.

Tournament players will be able to gain experience on the Mundelein courts this week as Mundelein Park District hosts the tournament

June 24-26. The tournament of champions is set for Aug. 12-14. For more information on the Mundelein tournament, call (312) 566-0650.

In earlier tournaments, Dave Buksa won at Gurnee and Warren while Al Gubitz won at Vernon Hills.

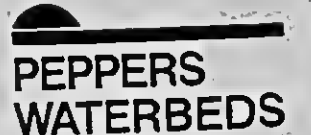

Moran earned four points toward the tournament finals, while Norby adds three points. Rick Russell and Orlan Ree had two points while Robin Reilly, Jasec Gorb, Rob Nasenbeny and Ron Honer each added one.

In men's doubles at Lindenhurst, Nordby and Joe Sanchez defeated Glen Critzer and Len Mattson in a three-set thriller. Nordby and Sanchez won the first set 6-3, lost the second 6-4 before taking the third and deciding set 6-4.

Coming tournament sites and phone numbers: Zion, July 9-10 (312) 746-5500; Waukegan, July 14-17 (312) 662-0186; Grayslake, July 22-24 (312) 223-4404; Libertyville, July 30 and 31 (312) 362-7490.

Voters in nine Lake County townships will be part of a new county-wide effort to improve the accuracy of the voter registration records, said Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

"Lake County is growing rapidly with people moving daily, and the last person they think to notify is the County Clerk," Hess said. "Consequently, precinct lists must be continually 'culled' to keep them accurate. It is vital that voter records be as up-to-date as possible, since this prevents opportunities for vote fraud, as well as reduces election expenses," she continued.

"So we are starting an easy and convenient program to audit our records, which will contact every registered voter in the county over a two-year period," Hess noted.

Under the plan, which is similar to a routine bank audit, voters in nine townships will receive a white post card giving their voter registration information. If it is correct, the voter does nothing. But if it is incorrect, the voter is to notify the county clerk's office, she explained. "The post office will return post cards to us when the voter has moved, which signals us that they may no longer be a qualified voter," said Hess.

We are doing this during the summer months to give voters maximum time to make any necessary changes before election day. Cards will be mailed out the end of June to voters in Benton, Zion, Newport, Antioch, Lake Villa and Grant townships. In July cards will be mailed to voters in Waukegan, Vernon and Deerfield townships.

In total, 103,000 voters or 50 percent of the registered voters in the County will receive a notice this summer with the remaining voters audited next summer. "We expect this will be a painless and efficient method to update our records, and we are asking voters for their cooperation by giving us a quick response," Hess said.

Beating the rush

Fox Lake resident Dorothy Hompl (left) avoids last minute rush to beat June 30 deadline by purchasing her Fox Lake village sticker from Mayor's secretary Marlene Gast of village hall with two weeks to spare.

County to honor its top seniors

Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. is formulating plans for the 16th annual Senior Citizen's Recognition Day. It will be held Wednesday, Aug. 31, at the Lakewood Forest Preserve in Wauconda.

This program will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 6 p.m. Free refreshments, games, boat rides, fishing and entertainment will be held throughout the day. Entertainers, local business and others donate their services each year to help make the day a success.

The all-day event is held to honor Lake County senior citizens and will include special recognition of Lake County centenarians. Township supervisors will lend transportation assistance.

Donald Strenger, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., and the Education and Special Events Committee are seeking names of individuals who will be "100 years young" by August, 1988. A flea market will be conducted in the museum's courtyard again this year, and both old and new donations are wanted.

Those with information concerning the centenarians or flea market donations should contact Theresa Rehberg at the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. headquarters at (312) 367-6640.

Teens honored for being tops

Sixty-six area teenagers were recognized at the College of Lake County last week for their excellence in service to their schools, communities, and families. From this group of 66 nominated teens, 20 students were honored by the Youth Service Network of Lake County with certificates from Lt. Gov. George Ryan and $100 U.S. Savings Bonds, donated by local legislators, businesses, hospitals, social service agencies and private individuals.

Anne Meyer, president-elect of National Federation of Parents for Drug-Free Youth, spoke to the nominees, their families, and guests about ways to continue their success.

Following are the twenty finalists and their home towns:

Barrington: Andre Traversa and Jennifer Howell.

Zion: Paul January, Ajay Shah and Christopher D. Carr.

Wauconda: Megan Streich.

Winthrop Harbor: Samantha Bishop, Patricia Kallusch and Robert Townsend.

Highland Park: Jonathan Weis and Allison Cohen.

Waukegan: Marian Thompson, Ellen Williamson, David Knapp, Johnathan Glenn and Alyssa Lynn Rip-pentrop.

Lake Forest: Jennifer Saporito.

Gages Lake: Renee Lahey.

Gurnee: Brian Studebaker.

Mundelein: Jennifer Knight.

Bankers honor Churchill

State Rep. Robert W. Churchill (R-Lake Villa) of the 62 Dist. received the 1988 Outstanding Legislator of the Year Award from the Illinois Bankers Assn. at its annual meeting in Chicago.

The award read: "As the House minority Whip, who has sponsored legislation of critical importance to Illinois commercial banking industry, including the authorization for regional inter-state banking and insurance brokerage powers for state banks.

This is the first year the award was given. Senator Greg Zito also received a similar award.

Computer workshop about new PC uses

A three-hour workshop will be conducted in July at the Lake County Area Vocational Center, in Grayslake. The workshop is designed to give a beginner, or potential buyer the skills necessary to begin to use the IBM-PC with confidence. This is a "hands-on" experience course, with one IBM-PC per participant. In three hours, participants will gain a general understanding of the IBM-PC, applications packages and the usage of PC-DOS. The workshop will be offered on either Thursday evening, or Saturday afternoon. The Thursday evening session will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. on July 21. The Saturday afternoon session will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on July 9. Cost is $50 per person. For further information call Jim Sands at (312) 223-6681 ext. 218.

Miss America at bank opening Pick Skinner as 'agbassador'

Grand opening of the new State Bank of Antioch branch office in Lindenhurst will be Friday and Saturday, June 24 and 25. The bank's first branch since it was established in 1894 is at 2031 E. Grand Ave., Lindenhurst. It is a full-service bank. President of both facilities is Randy Miles.

Events get underway at 10 a.m. on Friday with a ribbon-cutting ceremony. Attending will be all local, county and area officials.

Saturday is what the bank calls Community Day with activities from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Many of these will be in a large tent on the Grand Ave. side of the parking lot.

Kurt Becker, offensive lineman for the Chicago Bears, will attend to sign autographs from noon to 2:30 p.m. as will Judi Ford Johnson, a former Miss Illinois and 1969 Miss America.

Both the Lake Villa Twp. Fire Dept. and Lindenhurst Police Dept. will have equipment and personnel plus a display.

The Antioch Clown Club will give out free balloons and do a juggling routine. There also will be free recorded music, soda and hot dogs from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Free gifts will be given away. The public is invited to attend.

Village spares offending tree

Lindenhurst has a knotty problem. It is a tree in Lewis Park. This is not just any old tree, but a cottonwood tree. And it isn't just a tree, but one with three trunks. All three shed blooms each spring.

Which is where the problem lies. New residents of the area say the tree overhangs their property. Together with this obstruction the tree sheds its fluffy white blooms on the property.

Lindenhurst village officials don't want to cut down the tree, but they do want to accommodate the new homeowner. At this month's village board meeting they were about ready to reach a consensus about cutting off the trunk that protrudes into the yard.

Then, they thought a second time. "I think it is unreasonable," one official said, "for us to cut a tree just because it overhangs someone's property." Someone else pointed out that trees along village parkways overhang into yards at many locations. They said cutting the tree may set a precedent. The village attorney will be asked to render a decision after the board split 3-3 about whether to cut the tree.

OK mosquito control

Mosquitos will not be welcome in Lindenhurst this summer or next. The village board has awarded a two-year contract in the amount of $8,150 to Protection Unlimited for summer spraying.

Michael J. (Jim) Skinner, son of Jack Skinner of Lake Villa, has been selected as an "Agbassador" at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale.

Agbassadors are select students from SIUC's College of Agriculture who participate in new student recruitment.

The program, which began at SIUC in 1986, is part of a statewide campaign to encourage those interested in agriculture to continue their education, according to Donald Elkins, associate dean for instruction at the College of Agriculture.

"The students selected this year are the cream of the crop," said Elkins. "They represent all five departmental areas, including agribusiness economics; agricultural education and mechanization; animal science, food and nutrition; forestry; and plant and soil science."

Agbassadors serve as speakers or panel members throughout the state at open houses, career days, information fairs and several other events during the year.

Elkins says the program has been an effective tool in recruiting agriculture students at SIUC. "Student ambassadors are truly effective recruiters and representatives of the college," he said.

"Prospective students really respect them and listen to what they have to say about agriculture at SIUC."

Skinner is a junior at SIUC, majoring in plant and soil science with a specialization in landscape horticulture. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho social-professional agriculture fraternity.

Four make dean's list

Four residents of Lindenhurst were named to the dean's list at Augustana College, Rock Island, for the latest quarter of the 1987-88 school year. Students receiving this honor achieved a grade-point average in the "A" range, between 3.5 and 4.0 for the quarter.

Dean's list students were Anthony Gebauer, Scott Johnson, Christopher Rauch and Laura Rymut.

Gebauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald

Gebauer, is a junior majoring in geography.

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lance Johnson, is a junior majoring in business administration.

Rauch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rauch, is a junior majoring in psychology and political science.

And Rymut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rymut, is a junior majoring in history and psychology.

Augustana College is a private co-educational college of liberal arts and sciences.

BEST FOOT FORWARD

FROM THE OFFICE OF DR. PAUL ABLER

TRAVELING FEET

Travel and sightseeing ahead? Get your feet ready. They probably will put on more miles and undergo more strain than in everyday life. Some common sense precautions can help avert aching feet or worse.

Take along at least two pairs of comfortable shoes. Thick, springy soles protect the feet and cushion the shock of rough surfaces. Break in new shoes well before departure.

Even with proper shoes, many travelers often experience foot problems but most of these are old conditions aggravated by new stresses.

Annoying foot problems that have been tolerated should be treated by a podiatrist before setting off on the trip. The podiatrist also can advise how to deal with heat, moisture and other factors that can affect foot comfort while traveling.

Rustic Manor rebuilding caught in political snarl

by JOHN MATIJEVICH
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Heading into the last week of the current session of Senate and House, several "big" questions remain unanswered. Will there be a tax increase? Will the Legislature reform the Chicago public school system? Will the White Sox stay in Chicago?

Beginning last week, four legislative leaders have been meeting at "summit conferences" with Gov. James Thompson on the tax issue. Their meeting was called a day after Teachers' Lobby Day. The Illinois Education Assn. and Illinois Federation of Teachers flooded the capitol building. Many were there from Lake County. When they called me off the floor, I said that I had not yet made up my mind on the issues. As I analyzed the governor's $1.34-billion increase request, it means almost 2,000 new jobs. That will be an increased burden on taxpayers and, a few years down the road, they'll be looking for another increase. So, as much as I want to help education, I don't want to provide new dollars to balloon the political bureaucracy. The bottom line is: Can we provide services without additional revenues?

The summit conference appointed a bi-partisan, 12-member legislative panel to negotiate a resolution of the Chicago school reform issue. The House Democrats adopted a plan calling for school management councils to give parents greater involvement in school policy decisions. It also will give school principals greater control over attendance centers. And it is designed to weed out the administrative over-load in the system. Before we adjourn, there will be many variations of school reform proposed. Whatever is adopted will be a compromise of sorts.

The Illinois Sports Facilities Authority presented a plan last week to save the White Sox. It appears this plan could get the votes because no additional revenues beyond what was offered in the 1986 agreement will be needed. Many seem to believe the baseball team may move to Florida no matter what the legislature does. But only time can answer that.

On the whole, the session has been a quiet one, with no major, explosive issues. Locally, the open space bill, which attempts to emasculate the Township Open Space Act, has not been resolved. It may end up in compromise.

Another local issue, allowing the Rustic Manor to rebuild on the flood plain in Gurnee following a devastating fire, hit a snag last week.

The House is concerned this would set a bad precedent. There were also concerns about plans for a hotel, in addition to a restaurant. All of the area legislators sympathize with the plight of the owners, but the "other side"—led by environmental groups—has legitimate concerns. Their concerns will hold up passage of the bill.

Will the legislature adjourn on time? I certainly hope so. After Thursday, June 30, it takes more votes—a three-fifths majority—to pass something that can be effective immediately. So the majority issues, if they are to pass, should be approved by then.

$1,000 reward in thefts

Bouys on the Chain O' Lakes are being stolen or damaged by vandals. This has led the Chain O' Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency to offer a reward of $1,000 for information leading to conviction of those responsible.

So far this year seven bouys have been stolen and countless others vandalized. Worst locations are Nippersink and Pistakee lakes.

Last year a total of 18 bouys disappeared.

Vacation auto trip costs rise

AAA-Chicago Motor Club's suggested budget for a 1988 family motoring vacation increased eight percent, or $14 per day, compared to last year due to higher prices for gasoline, meals and lodging.

This year a family of four can expect to spend $90 per day for meals, $80 for lodging, plus 7.4 cents per mile for gasoline and oil, based on an average fuel consumption of 23 miles per gallon. Based on 300 miles of daily travel, that totals $192 a day.

Since 1980, AAA-CMC's budget for a family motoring vacation shows meal costs have risen 125 percent and lodging rates have increased 100 percent.

In addition to food, lodging and driving costs, travelers should budget for entertainment, shopping, recreation, admission to places of interest as well as road and bridge tolls.

Actual vacation expenditures vary depending on personal preferences, and costs vary by area. For instance, higher lodging rates are usually found in metropolitan areas and at resorts in season.

To help reduce motoring vacation costs AAA-CMC offers these suggestions:

— Make Sure the Car is in top mechanical condition to save on fuel and avoid costly breakdowns.

— Avoid driving during gas-gulping urban rush hours.

— Eat lunch as the main meal of the day because lunch prices are cheaper than dinner.

— Take advantage of restaurants offering children's menus and "early bird" specials.

— For the best selection of low price lodging, reserve rooms in advance or arrive early in the day. Many hotels and motels offer free or low cost rates for children.

Device Increases Gas Mileage

A device called Platinum GaSaver, patented by National Fuelsaver Corp., increases the efficiency of your combustion so effectively that your mileage is guaranteed to increase significantly in gasoline engines.

The theory behind the GaSaver is the same as its government mandated cousin, the catalytic converter. Both cause unburnt fuel to burn. Their differences, however, are important. The catalytic converter burns unburnt exhaust gases in the tail pipe by exposing them to the platinum. Platinum GaSaver introduces platinum into the engine instead of the tail pipe. Platinum entering the engine increases the percentage of each gallon burning from the normal 68 to 90 percent.

Without the GaSaver, that 22 percent would only burn in the tail pipe when it came in contact with the platinum-coated surfaces of the catalytic converter. With the GaSaver, that 22 percent can now burn in the engine where the release of heat and energy is used to drive the vehicle.

With 22 percent more of each gallon burning in the engine, 22 percent fewer gallons are required. (Actual figures may vary.)

The injector itself takes only minutes to install and works on both leaded and unleaded gasoline.

Platinum GaSaver is cost effective and passed C.A.R.B. in 1983. In addition, increasing the octane rating 4 points eliminates the need for premium gasoline.

Probably the most valuable asset offered by the GaSaver is the extending of engine life by removing carbon deposits. Carbon deposits are simply another form of unburnt fuel responsible for two detrimental phenomena: engine knock or ping, and diesel or run-on.

Documented test results conducted on 27 municipal vehicles accompany every GaSaver.

Over 100,000 already in use. Retail, wholesale or distributorship calls welcome.

Senior veterans join in games for Olympics

North Chicago Veterans Administration Medical Center and the Westside VA Medical Center will co-host the VA's regional Golden Age Games at the North Chicago Center from Sunday, June 26, through Thursday, June 30.

The Golden Age Games are supported by the Disabled American Veterans and other veteran's service organizations.

The games, designed specifically for veterans 55 years of age and older who are currently receiving medical care through the VA, provide an opportunity to compete in a variety of sports activities geared to individual capabilities. This is the only national program designed to improve the quality of life and serve as a preventive medicine for the aging veteran.

The Golden Age Games

consist of 12 activities—table tennis, dominoes, tennis, shuffleboard, horseshoes, pentathlon, one-quarter and one-half mile bicycle races, eightball, bowling, checkers, croquet and swimming.

There will also be six activities designed for wheelchair participants—horseshoes, shuffleboard, pentathlon, croquet, bowling and table tennis.

Activities will be held at North Chicago VAMC, the North Chicago High School and at the Great Lakes Naval Base. The North Chicago Veterans Administration Medical Center will house the 146 participating veterans from 13 midwest VA medical centers.

"We are proud to be selected to host the annual Golden Age Games and wish all the participants good luck," said Leonard Rogers, North

Chicago VA Medical Center director. "We sincerely appreciate the support of the DAV, the DesPlaines Elks Club, and other veterans service organizations. They make these games possible."

Opening ceremonies will be at 9 a.m. June 27, and will include an olympic-style parade of participants. Closing ceremonies will be Wednesday evening, followed by fireworks. The public is invited to watch the fireworks at the North Chicago VAMC at 8 p.m. June 29.

Finalists from all seven regional games will move on to National VA Golden Age Games competition to be held at the Marion, Ind., Veterans Administration Medical Center Sept. 8 through 11.

Senior group praises governor

Governor James Thompson has been saluted by the Illinois Assn. of Area Agencies on Aging for his stand on a tax increase to include funding for human service needs. His budget message included recommendations for the aging of $2.8 million for community support services through area agencies such as nutrition, home-care, medical visits and senior centers; provides $3 million to address the problem of elderly abuse in the state; an increase in service reimbursements for the Community Care Program, a program serving 27,000 of the most frail elderly; and for the restoration of the second tax exemption for the blind and elderly. The loss of this exemption in 1987, due to a change in Federal tax laws, is expected to increase state revenue this year by $20 to $32 million.

The advocacy agenda of the Assn. of Area

Agencies on Aging and a coalition of 17 state-wide aging organizations continues to support the governor's position for a tax increase to include human services. However, the governor's proposal falls short of recognizing the association's call for a fair share to meet the needs of the elderly in Illinois, the group said. While senior groups praise and support the governor for issues he addressed, they feel his proposals did not adequately address the growing need for home delivered meals and the restoration of community services to at least the 1986 level.

Community services assist over 700,000 seniors in such areas as transportation, information, outreach, in-home services and senior centers. The association is not requesting an increase but, at minimum, a return to the 1986 level. Since 1986, services have been reduced to seniors, some senior centers have closed and home health projects have been discontinued. While education is receiving a 10 percent increase and other human service programs are receiving an increase, community services for seniors are not being restored to the 1986 level, the group said.

The Assn. of Area Agencies on Aging is urging senior advocates to express their appreciation to the governor for recognizing the need for funding aging services and, at the same time, make clear to the General Assembly that the total of $13 million to aging services is not their fair share of the human services funding. Of one billion dollars to be raised through the proposed tax increase, over 1.8 million seniors, representing 12 percent of Illinois' population, will receive $13 million or 1.3 percent of new tax revenues.

Smoking limits at hospital

Northern Illinois Medical Center, McHenry, has implemented a No Smoking policy. Smoking will be permitted only in the west end of the cafeteria while the remainder of the medical center buildings, on and off site, will become smoke-free.

According to NIMC President Paul Laudick, this decision was made on the basis that the medical center, as a health care provider, should take a leadership position on the issue of smoking. "Many industries and companies have already gone to a smoke-free environment," Laudick says. "Although achieving a smokeless workplace is not easy, we believe that with planning, communication, feedback, and support, we can reach our goal."

The smoking policy applies to everyone including: all staff, board members, physicians, auxiliaries, volunteers, and visitors. The decision was reached following input and research by representatives from every segment of the corporate family, many of whom are smokers. In employee surveys, 76 percent agreed that smoking is a problem at NIMC.

In terms of health, the new policy will have a positive effect on the comfort and welfare of the patients.

Senior council officers

Each month senior citizens from throughout Lake County meet at a different location as the Lake County Council for Seniors. They discuss issues of importance to the senior population and take action where appropriate. Officers of the group are, from left, Richard Horton, president, of Deerfield; Anthony Cizerle, vice president, Waukegon; Edith Wilson, recording secretary, Waukegon; Ruth Adams, treasurer, Ingleside; and Eileen Domewood, corresponding secretary, Gurnee.

QUESTION: I am wondering whether I might have a cataract. What are some of the signs of cataract?

ANSWER: The following CATARACT WARNING SIGNS may indicate that you have a cataract.

- * Vision becomes blurred, hazy, or fuzzy
- * Eyes are sensitive to light and glare.
- * Driving is difficult, particularly at night.
- * A "film" or "fog" seems to block vision
- * A glare or halo may appear to surround familiar objects exposed to bright light.
- * Normal activities such as reading, sewing, and watching T.V. become difficult
- * Glasses seem dirty, but cleaning them doesn't help
- * Stronger glasses fail to improve vision

Russia would love U.S. level of medical care

Leo W. Tannenbaum, M.D.

In September, at an Anglo-American Ethics meeting, a PhD economist predicted that if a serious economic depression occurs in the next few years, National Health Insurance (socialized medicine) will be seriously considered. This will be because employers and insurers will balk at bearing the burden of medical costs. He also predicted that for-profit hospitals will fade. Health maintenance organizations (HMOs), once expected to take over most medical care, will decrease in enrollment from its peak of nearly 25 percent. The public will have become more sophisticated about the term "medically unnecessary," and lawsuits against HMOs will make them less popular.

At this point, said the economist, National Health Insurance (NHI) will be advanced as the saviour of America's health care. Russia, being most identified with free medical care for all its citizens, bears checking into to see how it is working there. Both native and foreign reports have recently given us some information. Perhaps most revealing is Mikhail Gorbachev's openly calling the system a failure! He appointed Y. Chazov as the new Minister of Health to clean up what is recognized as a crisis. Unlike other industrialized nations that publish health statistics, Russia's were kept secret. The figures are coming out belatedly. Other than Russia, the people of all industrialized nations are living longer and infant mortality is dropping. Although the Russian figures are confusing, males died earlier; and then the mortality statistics returned to the 1972 level of 64 years of age—compared to 71.5 for the U.S. The female death rate dipped, but not quite as badly. These figures have been kept secret for 14 years to preserve the appearance of success. Infant mortality rates are listed at 2.5 times that of the U.S., placing Russia 50th in the world in 1985, the last year given. Dr. Chazov has revealed that 12 or 33 maternity hospitals in Moscow don't meet basic sanitation needs. Pravda discloses that lack of sanitation in some maternity wards have led to septicemia and toxemia in pregnancy so widespread that many mothers and infants have died. Administrators have tried to cover up the mortality rates. In rural hospitals, 35 percent have no hot water, 27 percent no sewer systems, and 17 percent no running water. A chronic shortage of sterile needles, bandages, diapers and the barest of modern equipment have allowed the general health of the people to deteriorate. This is compounded by a lack of even rudimentary compliance with standards of hygiene. With a war in Afghanistan, induction standards for the army were not exactly high. Yet 12 of every 100 recruits were unable to pass induction exams.

In the officially leveling of the classes, the farmer or factory worker has always been at the top of the social and pay scale in the USSR. So there has been no problem keeping medical personnel among the lowest paid workers. The amount of money saved there really hasn't helped medical care. (This is borne out here; lowering the fees of those treating patients lowers quality of care.) We know that in a socialized state everyone is equal but, as we shall see, some people are more equal than others. Resentful of the hours and little pay, medical providers have hit upon a capitalistic tool, "the tip". Under "free care", you don't get much care without tips. Carried to its ultimate, it has become a bribe. Mentioned to a reporter of one American journal, examples were given by a recent patient. "A ruble gets you a thermometer, another gets the sheet changed, another the toilet cleaned," he said. "A hundred rubles admitted you to a clean ward. The surgeon gets another 100, or you'll just wait in bed."

Now that Gorbachev has called for "glasnost" (openness) and perestroika (restructuring), things have begun moving. Salaries have been raised for medical personnel. In some areas, patients may choose their own doctor. If he's good, he'll make more money. Strangely, some physicians aren't anxious to switch over. They have been working in a black market, or underground economy and aren't anxious to be put on a public salary where their earnings are disclosed and taxed at 12 percent. Besides, in this state where everybody is equal, but some are more equal than others, there already are levels of clinics which permit access only to the more equal politbureau, state police, etc. Buildings, equipment and working conditions are better there.

And now comes the most startling ideas of all. Gorbachev has suggested several innovations in a communist state. He has started enlarging the number of fee-for-service clinics, and even extended it to the first hospital to use this capitalistic system! A pay clinic in Moscow is so popular that people come for miles and prefer to pay for what is offered free in their hometowns. The only explanation appears to be that they get to choose their doctors and are treated more humanely. There is a catch here. The bureaucracy, feeling threatened, grabs most of the fees and limits space and equipment so that these fee-for-service clinics will only make token advances. There is hope that, eventually, this obstruction will decrease. The most capitalistic tool of all is the "self-financing hospital" that is permitted to manage its funds after paying its expenses.

THE BOARD OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES OF THE ELA AREA
PUBLIC LIBRARY DISTRICT, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS

RESOLUTION NO. 88-6-1

RESOLUTION DETERMINING TO LEVY AN ADDITIONAL TAX OF .02 PERCENT OF EQUALIZED OR ASSESSED VALUE OF TAXABLE PROPERTY FOR MAINTENANCE AND PURCHASE OF LIBRARY BUILDINGS AND EQUIPMENT AND RELATED PURPOSES.

WHEREAS, the Board of Library Trustees of the Elia Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, is a public library organized pursuant to Ill. Rev. Stat., Chap. 81, Sec. 1001.1, et seq.; The Illinois Public Library District Act; and

WHEREAS, Section 1003.1 of the aforesaid act provides that the corporate authority may levy an additional tax of .02 percent of the value of all the taxable property of the Library, as equalized or assessed by the Illinois Department of Revenue, for the purchase of sites and buildings, for the construction and equipment of buildings, for the rental of buildings required for library purposes, and for maintenance, repairs and alterations of library buildings and equipment; and

WHEREAS, the Library Board does hereby deem it in the best interest of and of greatest benefit to the Elia Area Public Library District and the electors thereof and the residents of the Elia Area Public Library District that revenue be made available for certain designated purposes as set forth below;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Library Trustees of the Elia Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, that:

Section 1. This Board hereby determines to levy an additional tax of Sixty-eight Thousand and no/100 Dollars ($68,000) or such lesser additional amount as would produce a tax rate of .02 percent of the value of all the taxable property in the district, as equalized or assessed in accordance with law, for the purchase of sites and buildings, for the construction and equipment of buildings, for the rental of buildings required for library purposes, and for maintenance, repairs and alterations of library buildings and equipment.

Section 2. Within fifteen (15) days after the adoption of this resolution, it shall be published at least once in one or more newspapers published in the district; or if no newspaper is published herein, then in one or more newspapers with a general circulation within the district. The publication shall include a notice containing the following information: (1) the specific number of voters required to sign a petition requesting that the question at the adoption of this resolution be submitted to the electors of the district is 298; (2) the time in which the petition must be filed is thirty (30) days after publication; (3) the date of the prospective referendum is November 8, 1988; and (4) the secretary of the district shall provide a petition form to any individual requesting one.

SECTION 3. If within the thirty-day period after publication of this resolution, a petition is filed with the Board of Library Trustees of the Elia Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, signed by electors of the district equal in number to ten percent (10%) or more of the total number of voters cast at the last preceding regular district election, asking that the question of levying such a .02 percent tax be submitted to the electors of the district, the question shall be submitted to a special or general election. Said election shall be conducted in all particulars as set forth by statute.

SECTION 4. If no petition is filed with the Board of Library Trustees of the Elia Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, within thirty (30) days after said publication, this district shall then be authorized to levy the tax, and the tax levy ordinance for fiscal year 1988/89 may contain a direction to the County Clerk of Lake County to levy such additional tax.

SECTION 5. This resolution shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law.

PASSED by the Board of Library Trustees of the Elia Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, on the 14th day of June, 1988, by a vote of:
